INTRODUCTORY.

This History is the result of a resolution passed by the Alumni Association of The Long Island College Hospital, at a special meeting held May 6, 1895, "that, whenever the funds permit, a catalogue be prepared and published, which shall contain a brief history of each Alumnus." Previous to this time, several lists of graduates had been issued—one in 1875 by the College Faculty, containing the graduates of 1860-75; and, by the Alumni Association, lists of graduates with their addresses, in 1881, 1886 and 1888. Reporting in 1887 on the list of 1886, prepared by Robert L. Dickinson, Augustus H. Buckmaster and A. H. P. Leuf, Dr. Dickinson stated that when the work was begun, of 991 Alumni, only 150 addresses were known; while the list as printed contained 802 addresses of which 500 were vouched for as correct.

At the annual meeting of 1893, an amendment to the constitution was adopted, providing for a permanent Historian, and Harry K. Bell was elected to this office. The cash balances of 1894 and subsequent years were appropriated to the Historian and devoted to the publication of the proposed biographical list of Graduates. Albert Leffingwell became Historian in 1894, and collected considerable material for the history, resigning the office in June, 1897, when the present incumbent was chosen to succeed him.

Blanks for the necessary data were immediately sent to all graduates, and the work of completing the list of addresses was industriously prosecuted. Every possible clue was followed, and many Alumni were located and communicated with. This has required a vast amount of correspondence, and something still remains to be done to complete the list of addresses. But the advisability of issuing the book within reasonable limits of time renders it best to publish it now, leaving additions and corrections for the supplementary publications which the Association will issue in the future, if the interest in the work should warrant it. The Historian has in hand photographs of all the members of the Council, the Faculty, and the Clinical Professors from the beginning, and complete biographical sketches of all, besides many photographs of Alumni; but in order not to extend the present volume unduly or to increase the expense of issuing it, the use of this material is deferred to another occasion.

Some graduates, of whose addresses we are reasonably certain, have failed to respond to the half-dozen circulars and personal letters requesting their data; but, considering the large number of Alumni, and the human tendency to procrastinate in such matters, it is felt that the result now offered is gratifying in its measure of completeness. Of 1,748 graduates up to the present time, the biographies of 1,191 are printed in this volume. About 225 graduates are known or supposed to be dead, for 58 of whom biographical data have been secured; and for about the same number satisfactory addresses are lacking. This leaves a comparatively small proportion of the whole number of graduates presumably accessible by mail who have failed to respond to the circulars or have not received them. In a number of cases, communications sent by the Historian have been returned as undeliverable at the addresses on the books; in such cases the address is printed as the "last known address." In other cases, in which no advices have been received that the addresses are wrong, they are printed as they stand on the books; though many of these are the addresses of Alumni at the time of graduation, and they may have changed since then.

Corrections and additions are earnestly desired by the Historian, and all graduates who can contribute them are requested to do so. In the records of the College the names of a number of Alumni are starred, indicating that they have died; without, however, any definite statement as to when or where, or on what authority the death was recorded. And since, in several cases, such record of death has proved to be erroneous, it has been decided in this volume not to indicate any graduate as dead, except on the explicit authority of some one who knows the fact. This will explain why there appear in the following pages, without asterisks, the names of some who are known to many of our graduates to have died; and it will be the duty of such graduates to send promptly to the Historian all the information they can, giving the date, place, and cause of death, and all biographical material obtainable.

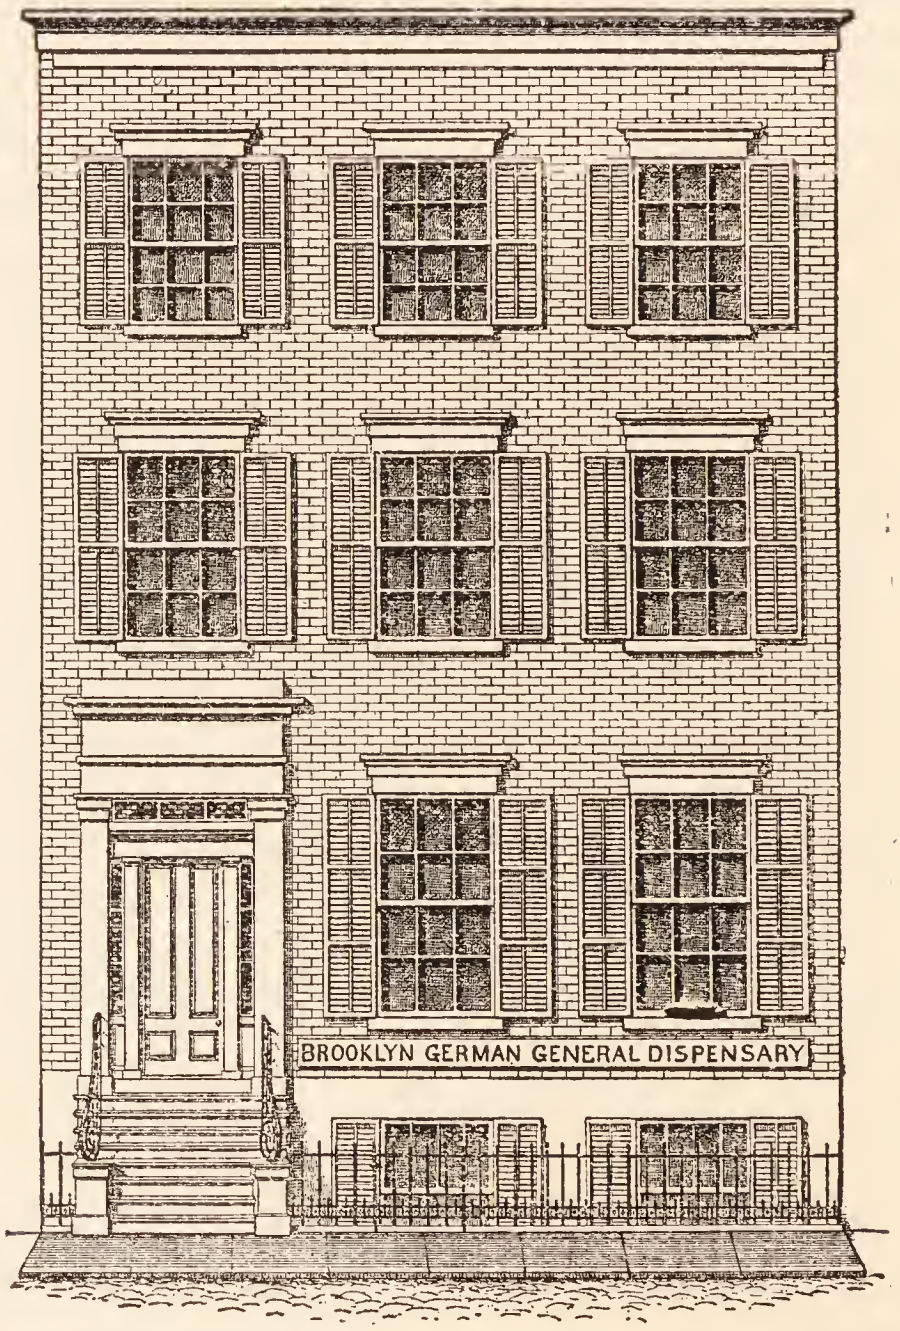

Active work in collecting the data for this book was begun about two years ago; and to those who are familiar with the conditions under which such material is secured, it will not appear that the publication has been unduly delayed.

The history of the College as here given is based strictly on the facts as they appear in the records of the Board of Regents.

Acknowledgments for assistance in the preparation of this History are due—to Mr. Henry W. B. Howard, of Brooklyn, for valuable services in collecting and arranging the material, reading proof, and attending to the manufacture of the book; to William Schroeder, M.D., Class of '81, for much historical, biographical, and illustrative material, practically unobtainable except from his remarkably complete collection of printed matter relating to The Long Island College Hospital, and the records of the Historical Committee of the Medical Society of the County of Kings, of which he is the secretary; to Messrs. F. W. Keutgen and Samuel Rowland, for historical material from the records of the Board of Regents; to Mr. E. P. Clark, of The Title Guarantee and Trust Company, for searching the titles of College property; to Dr. R. E. Shaw, Class of '84, Warden, for historical data relating to the hospital; to Constantine Hertzberg, Professor of Drawing in the Polytechnic Institute, and Dr. Robert L. Dickinson, for a number of drawings contributed; to Messrs. Charles E. Bolles, photographer, and Charles M. Cooper, superintendent of the New York Engraving and Printing Co., for the personal interest they have taken in the successful photographing, reproduction and arrangement of the views and other illustrations of the volume; to Messrs. William B. Davenport and Henry W. Maxwell, to the Trustees of the Hoagland Laboratory, and the College Faculty, for financial assistance and illustrative material. A number of graduates also have contributed financially and otherwise to the success of the History, but they will doubtless prefer that their services, offered in a spirit of loyalty to the College, should be generally rather than particularly acknowledged.

BROOKLYN GERMAN GENERAL DISPENSARY,

THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

1856.

BROOKLYN GERMAN GENERAL DISPENSARY.

In the month of March, 1856, the Brooklyn German General Dispensary was organized at 132 Court St. (now 146, second house from Pacific) with the following staff: "Consulting Physicians: Augustus Kalb [Kalt?], M.D., and Gustave Braeunlich. Consulting Surgeons: Louis Bauer and Charles Neuhaus. Resident Physician, Daniel Pfeiffer; Cupper and Leecher, Hermann. Open to the poor from 2 to 4 o'clock every day, Sunday excepted."

Such is the record taken from Smith's Brooklyn City Directory, covery the period 1856 to May 1, 1857.

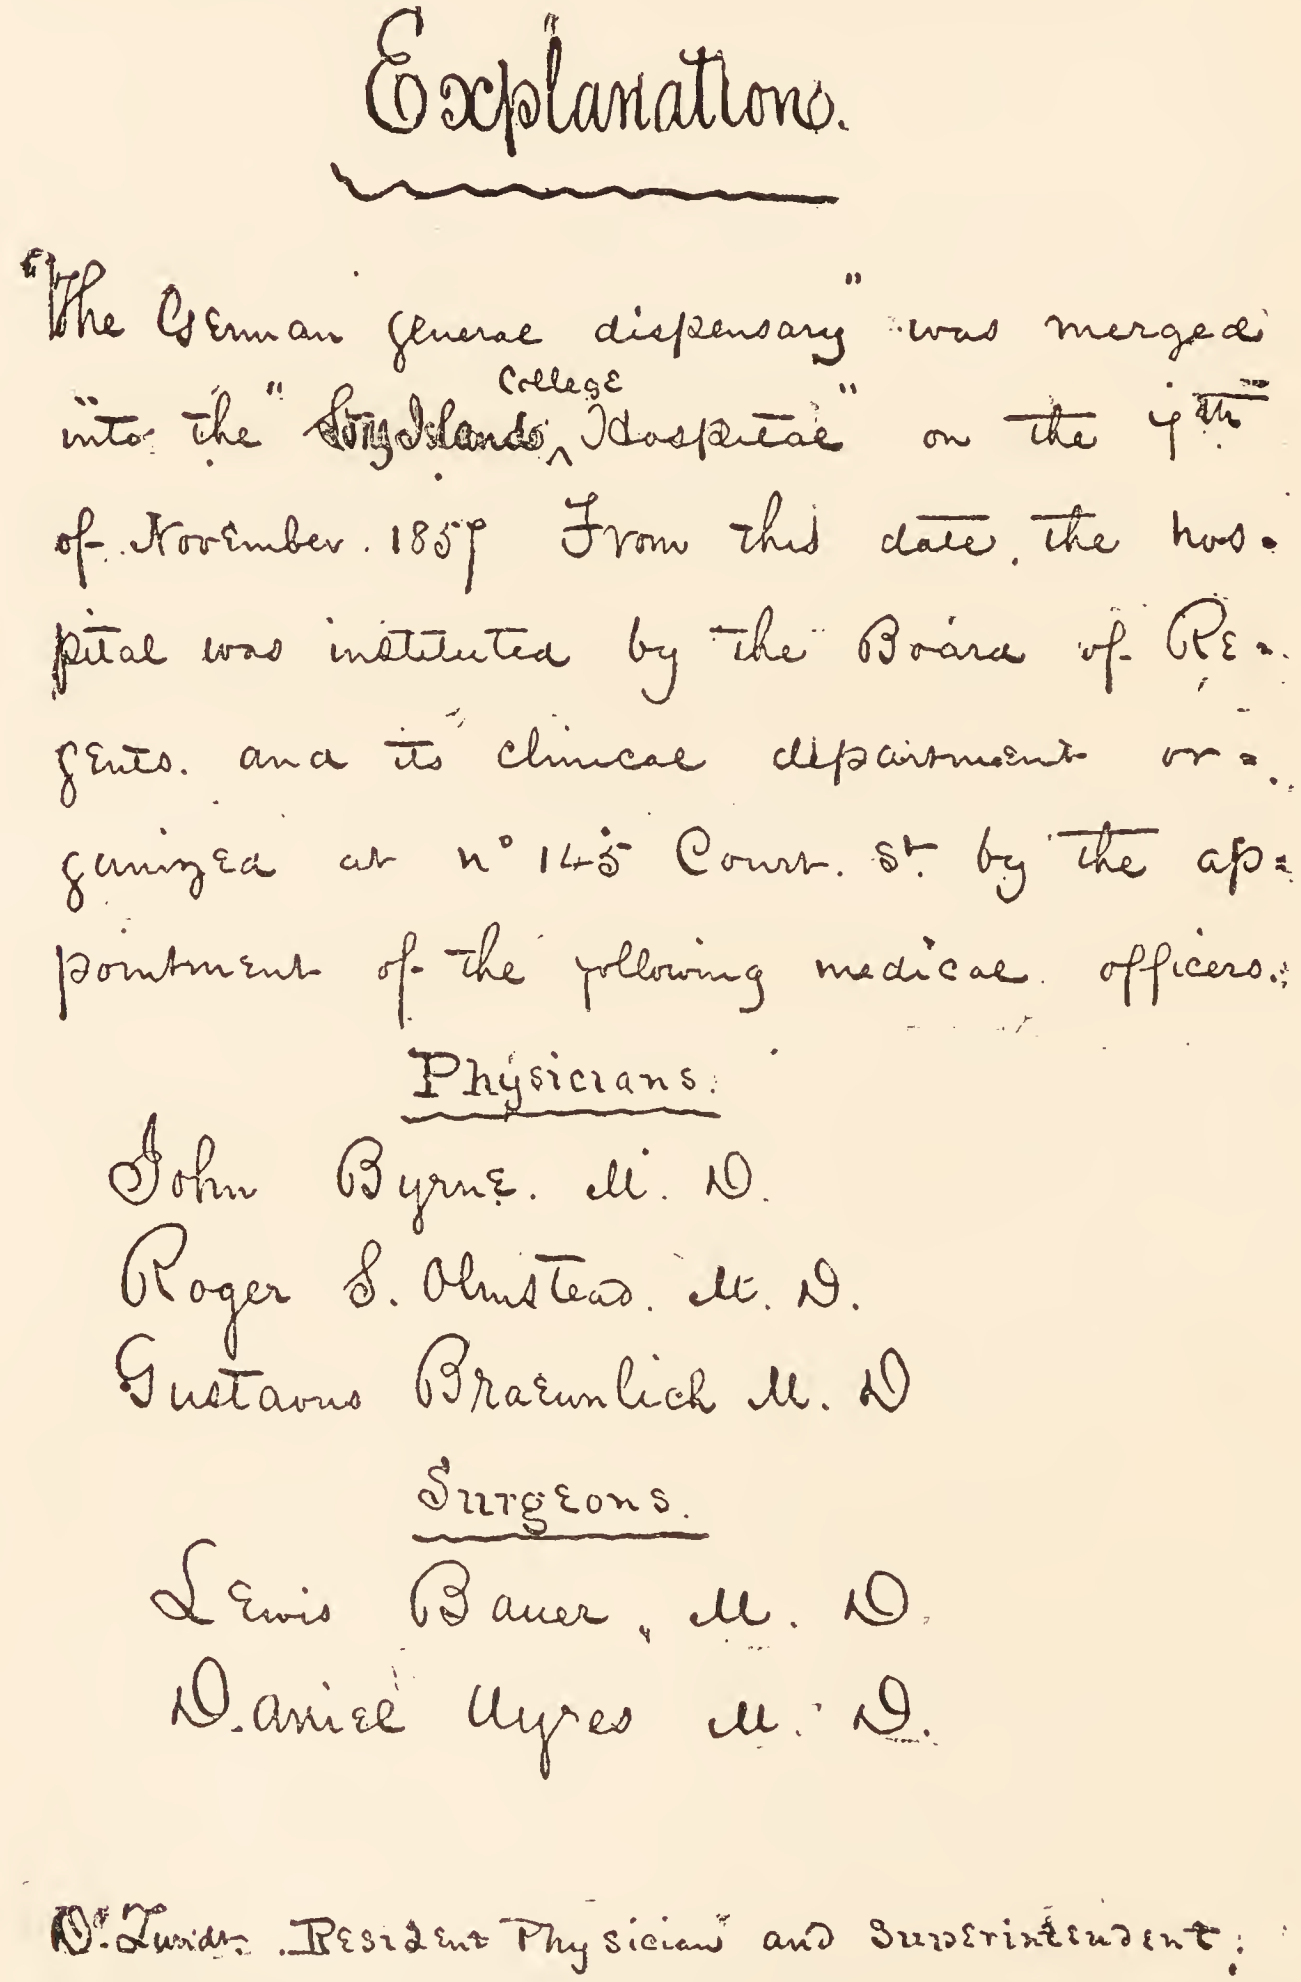

From the official record of the Dispensary, now in the custody of the Board of Regents of the Long Island College Hospital, which bears upon its back the title "Diarium," we learn that the first case was treated on March 17, 1856; that the patient's name was Louis Prell, that he lived at No. 3 Hamilton Avenue, and that he was suffering from "Splenitis chronica."

1857.

The Directory for 1857, the following year (1857 to May 1, 1858), locates the Dispensary at 145 Court St. (now 217), and gives the following staff:—"Consulting Physicians: Edward Maebert and Gustave Braeunlich; Consulting Surgeons: Louis Bauer and William Arming; Resident Physician, Herman Zundt; Cupper and Leecher, Hermann." The Directory further states that it is "open to the poor from 2 to 4 o'clock every day, Sunday excepted."

Here, on October 27, 1857, was held a meeting which must be regarded as the beginning of the Long Island College Hospital, and as this building was the birth-place of the institution we reproduce it. On November 6, 1857, it passed out from the hands of its organizers and became "The St. John's Hospital." From its organization, March, 1856, to November 6, 1857, when it ceased to be the Brooklyn German General Dispensary, 850 patients were treated in it. It was in reality, a hospital as well as a dispensary, for besides providing for out-door patients, it had wards in which cases were treated and operations were performed.

On the page of the "Diarium" following the record of case 850, which was entered November 7, 1857, is the following "Explanation," a photographic reproduction of which is here given:

Explanations.

"The German General dispensary" was merged into the "~~Long Islands~~ College Hospital" on the 4th of November. 1857 From this date the hospital was instituted by the Board of Regents. and its clinical department organized at N° 145 Court. St by the appointment of the following medical officers.

Physicians.

John Byrne. M. D.
Roger S. Olmstead. M. D.
Gustavus Braunlich M. D

Surgeons.

Lewis Bauer, M. D.
Daniel Ayres M. D.

D. Tuttle. Resident Physician and Superintendent.

Note.—Careful scrutiny of the above shows that the name, "St. John's," was first written and subsequently erased, and "Long Island" was afterward written over it and the word "College" inserted. An examination of the minutes proves that the institution was known as St. John's Hospital" on "7th of November, 1857," while the term, "Long Island College Hospital," does not appear until February 4, 1858.

On the page opposite this "Explanation" is the following, also here photographically reproduced:

The Clinical Department

OF

Long Island College Hospital,

INSTITUTED

NOV. 7th 1857

Incorporated March 5th 1858.

Note

On receiving the "Act of Incorporation" the Medical officers resigned their temporary positions, and the Council and Faculty were duly appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Charter and By-Laws;

Note.—" St. John's" was evidently erased and " Long Island " written afterwards. See previous note. The date of incorporation should be March 6, 1858.

After the transfer of the Dispensary this "Diarium" continued to be the record of the institution, so that "case 851" may be regarded as the first case treated under the new dispensation. Below is a copy of the page containing this and some of the subsequent cases:

Note.—From March, 1856 to May 1, 1858, when the "Perry Mansion" was opened for patients, and 145 Court Street closed, 1,533 cases had been treated at the latter place.

The minutes of the meeting referred to as having been held Oct. 27, 1857, are contained in a volume bearing upon its back the following: "Secretary's Minutes" and "L. I. Hospital Medical College." This volume contains the proceedings of the Board of Regents down to the year 1888, and from it much of the following history has been compiled. The explanation of the name of the institution which appears on the back of the "minutes" will be given later on. We regard this meeting as so interesting that we have had the page which contains the record photographed:

Minutes of a meeting of parties favorable to the organization of a Hospital in the City of Brooklyn to be called the St. Johns Hospital held at the Rooms of the Brooklyn Seaman Dispensary on the 27th October 1857-

The meeting being called to order, Dr. Daniel Ayres nominated Samuel W. Slocum Esq for Chairman. The motion being seconded, & submitted to the meeting, he was thereupon unanimously elected as the presiding officer.

On like motion, and in like manner C. A. Bowe was elected Secretary-

The following resolution, offered by Henry Mespenger Esq. and seconded by Cornelius Dever Esq. being submitted to the meeting, was thereupon carried unanimously.

Resolved, that it is expedient to organize a charitable institution in the City of Brooklyn, to be called St. Johns Hospital, and this meeting hereby pledge their support and co-operation in establishing the same'

A resolution was also offered by Daniel Chauncey Esq, and seconded by Dr. Louis Sauer, and carried, that a committee of three be appointed to report a draft Charter and By Laws, to be submitted at the next meeting, and that the Chairman name the members of such Committee, The Chairman accordingly appointed Messrs Dever, Ayres & Mespenger as members thereof, On motion of Dr. Robert Pyne, the chairman was also added to the committee,

A resolution was also carried that the same Committee report at the next meeting a plan for an immediate temporary organization of the Hospital on the basis of the Seaman Funeral Dispensary of the City of Brooklyn, preliminary to incorporation.

On motion the meeting then adjourned, to meet at the same place on Thursday the 5th November next at 7 o'clock P. M.

C. A. Bowe
Secretary

[Nov. 5.] An adjourned meeting of the projectors of St. John's Hospital was held and the committee appointed at the October meeting presented a Charter and By-Laws, a copy of which, so far as can be learned, is not in existence. The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That said Dispensary shall from this time be known by the name and title of The St. John's Hospital, and that its maintenance, until the proposed charter has been obtained, shall be provided for by a fund subscribed by the Regents named in the Charter (which shall not be less than twelve dollars each) and by such others as may join them, and at the option of said Regents. The twelve dollars each so subscribed may be regarded as fees of membership, or as a special subscription."

"In behalf of the German General Dispensary Dr. Louis Bauer then generously proposed a transfer to the St. John's Hospital of the furniture and property of the dispensary contained in the premises No. 147* Court Street, together with the lease of the building until the first of May, 1860, which offer was gratefully accepted, with the thanks of the meeting to him, and the gentlemen represented by him."

Messrs. Samuel Sloan, Daniel Chauncey and Harry Messenger were appointed a committee to procure the act of incorporation. Messrs. Chauncey and Davis [Deve?] were appointed a committee to report the names of suitable members of the medical profession for appointment to the offices of Physicians and Surgeons. On their recommendation the following were unanimously elected: Physicians: Drs. Gustavus Bruntine [Braeunlich?], R. L. Olmstead and John Byrne; Surgeons: Drs. Daniel Ayres and Louis Bauer. Dr. Herman Zundt was appointed to act as the House Surgeon and Physician until the further action of the Board, and on the same terms as those lately attending his connection with the German General Dispensary. Messrs. Slocum and Chauncey were constituted the Committee of Management, and Mr. Cornelius Dever was appointed Treasurer.

[Nov. 12.] A third meeting of the "projectors of St. John's Hospital" was held, at which the purchase of a minute book was authorized and the number of Regents changed from twenty to twenty-five. The Treasurer reported having received $115, and Mr. L. K. Miller was added to the Committee of Management.

[Dec. 3.] The projectors held a meeting on this day, at which were present the following gentlemen: S. W. Slocum, in the chair; C. N. Bovee, Secretary; and Messrs. Messenger, Chauncey, Hegeman, O'Sullivan, Hart, O'Gorman, Miller and Dever. The Secretary was requested to insert in the State paper and Brooklyn Eagle the proper notices of an application to the Legislature for a charter. In the Brooklyn Daily Eagle of December 16 is the following: "Notice is hereby given that at the next session of the New York Legislature application will be made for a charter for the 'St. John's Hospital.'" A resolution was adopted providing that the payment of $100 should constitute the donor a life-member. Dr. Daniel Ayres, in behalf of Charles Storrs, Esq., paid $100 to the Treasurer to constitute him a life-member. Mr. Storrs was, therefore, the first life-member. The Treasurer reported having received $154 since the last meeting. A resolution was adopted appointing Messrs. Messenger, Dever, Chauncey and O'Sullivan a committee to inquire and report as to the fittest location for the contemplated hospital; Mr. Miller was subsequently added to this committee.

[Dec. 17.] The projectors of St. John's Hospital again met with Mr. S. W. Slocum in the chair and Mr. C. N. Bovee as Secretary. There were also present, Messrs. Dever, Chauncey, Miller, O'Gorman, Hegeman, Messenger, Jas. Sullivan [Eugene O'Sullivan?] and Brownson. The following resolution was adopted: "That the proposed modifications and additions to the Charter, as presented by the faculty of this institution be adopted." Five hundred copies of the proposed Charter and By-Laws were ordered printed. Whether this was done or not cannot be ascertained, but the Historian has been unable to learn of a copy in existence. At this meeting Mrs. Mary Brainerd was proposed as a life-member.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

[Dec. 23.] The "officers of St. John's College Hospital" held a special meeting pursuant to notice. [The Historian can find no record of the date when the word "College" was introduced. So far as the record is concerned, it appears here for the first time. It would be interesting to know whether it was in the "Charter" reported November 5, 1857, and ordered printed December 17 of that year.] There were present: Mr. S. W. Slocum in the chair; and Mr. C. N. Bovee, as Secretary, also Messrs. Samuel Sloan, Chauncey, Miller, Dever, Messenger, Brownson and Delisser.

LONG ISLAND HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL COLLEGE.

"On motion of Mr. Samuel Sloan, the name of the institution was changed from 'St. John's College Hospital' to the 'Long Island Hospital and Medical College.'" Messrs. Delisser, Dever and Chauncey were appointed a committee to revise the Charter and By-Laws and report. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of five to report plans for raising funds that may be necessary for the purposes of the institution; Messrs. Delisser, and Messenger were appointed at this meeting and the chairman was added. At a later meeting Messrs. Miller, Baylis and Moore were also appointed.

[Jan. 7.] The "officers of the Long Island Hospital and Medical College" held a meeting, at which the various committees reported progress and the Faculty was invited to attend future meetings of the Board and participate in discussions. At this meeting Mr. Bovee offered the following resolution which was adopted:

"That the Committee on Location be requested to obtain from the owner of the property known as the Perry property, on Henry Street, between Pacific and Amity Streets, the refusal thereof at a price not exceeding the price already named of $32,500 for the period of — days, if the same can be obtained.

"Resolved, That if the Committee be unable to obtain a refusal of the property at that price or less on more favorable terms, that they be authorized to offer a sum not exceeding $500 for a refusal for one or more months at $32,500 or less, and that the Committee be authorized to make a contract with the owner to that effect in their own names."

THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

[Feb. 4.] On this date for the first time there was a "regular meeting of the Regents of the Long Island College Hospital." Present, Messrs. S. W. Slocum, Chairman; L. K. Miller, Secretary pro tem. (Mr. Bovee, Secretary, being absent); Davis [Dever?]; Cortelyou, Miller, Chauncey, Messenger, Sullivan [O'Sullivan?] and Hart.* At this meeting J. L. Pyle & Son donated medicine.

Committee on Location reported progress, and Mr. Miller resigning as Regent and Mr. Messenger being excused from serving, Messrs. Cortelyou and James were added to Committee on Location.

THE PERRY PROPERTY.

Later in this meeting the Committee on Location reported the following plan and each Regent was requested to sign his name thereto:

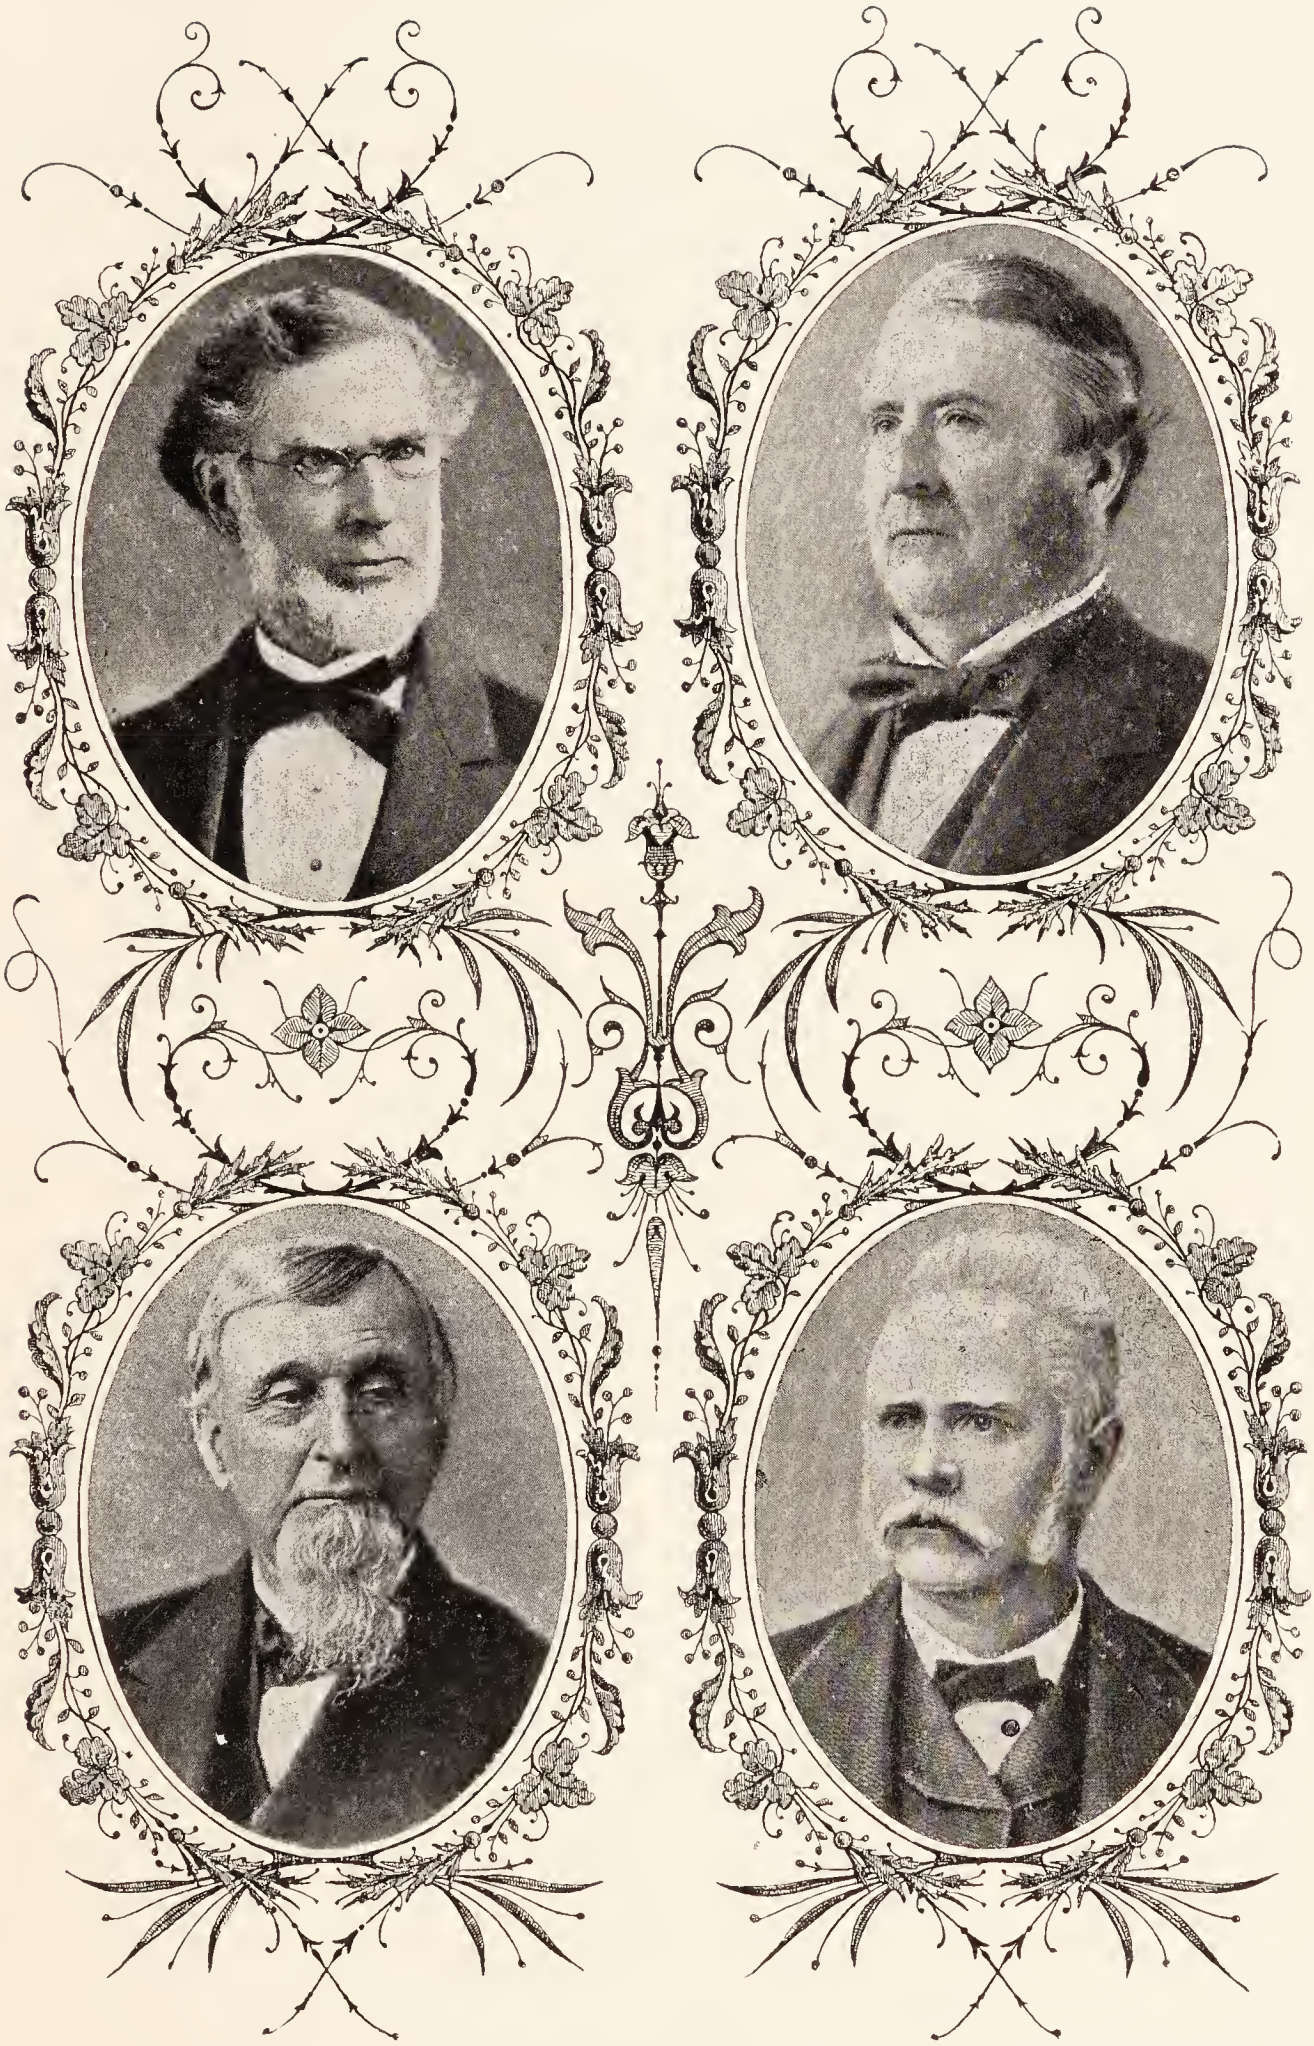

"Whereas it is contemplated to purchase the plot of land in Brooklyn fronting on the west side of Henry Street, between Amity and Pacific Streets, known as the Perry property, for the use of the Long Island College Hospital,

"And, whereas to accomplish that purpose Daniel Chauncey, N. E. James, Jacques Cortelyou, Eugene O'Sullivan and Cornelius Dever have been elected as a Committee to purchase the property and to take a deed in their names as joint tenants;

"Now we, whose names are hereto signed, do each for himself agree to advance to the said Daniel Chauncey, N. E. James, Jacques Cortelyou, Eugene O'Sullivan and Cornelius Dever, the sum of Four Hundred Dollars, or so much thereof proportionally as may be called for by Daniel Chauncey, N. E. James, Jacques Cortelyou, Eugene O'Sullivan and Cornelius Dever or the survivor of them.

"And the said Daniel Chauncey, N. E. James, Jacques Cortelyou, Eugene O'Sullivan and Cornelius Dever do hereby covenant, promise and agree to and with each and all of the subscribers hereto to convey the land when purchased to the Long Island College Hospital, when in-

And in case said Long Island College Hospital shall not be incorporated or if incorporated shall not take a conveyance of said land, the said Daniel Chauncey, N. E. James, Jacques Cortelyou, Eugene O'Sullivan and Cornelius Dever, agree to convey said land or dispose of the same as a majority of the signers hereof shall in writing direct, and divide the net proceeds thereof pro rata among those of the subscribers hereto who have contributed to the fund in proportion to the sum contributed by each.

The Committee was instructed in the purchase of the property not to exceed the price named in the resolution passed in the last meeting.

The "Perry property" was formerly a part of the farm of Ralph Patchen. The lots on which the Long Island College Hospital now stands became vested in Joseph A. Perry at various times and by various deeds given by different individuals from 1833 to 1843, and in 1835 he built upon a portion of this his residence, which subsequently became the Long Island College Hospital, and of which but a portion, the central part, now remains. In 1843, the whole property became vested in Dennis Perkins and he was in possession in 1858.

[Feb. 18.] At this meeting of the Regents, the chairman, Mr. Sloan, announced that the Committee on Location had entered into a contract in the name of Hon. Samuel Sloan* with the owner of the property known as the Perry property for its purchase at the price of $31,250. The following is the "contract" referred to, and recorded in Liber of Conveyances 469, page 360:

"Articles of Agreement made the thirteenth day of February, One-thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, between Dennis Perkins, of the City of Brooklyn, Kings County, of the first part and Samuel Sloan, of said City of the second part in the manner following: The said party of the first part, in consideration of the sum of one dollar to him duly paid, hereby agrees to sell unto the said party of the second part, all that piece of land and premises in the City of Brooklyn as aforesaid as now enclosed and occupied by the party of the first part bounded in front by Henry Street, northerly by Pacific, and southerly by Amity Street, and westerly by land now or late of O. Pollitz, being about 200 feet wide front and rear and 169 feet deep on each side, for the sum of thirty-one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, which the said party of the second part hereby agrees to pay to the said party of the first part as follows, viz.: Eleven thousand two hundred and fifty dollars on the first day of May next and the balance by assuming mortgages now on the property for the amount, viz.: Twenty thousand dollars; any interest on said mortgages, taxes, assessments or other incumbrances to be deducted from the call to be paid, as above; the party of the second part, to assume said mortgages and agree to discharge them at the end of three years and the party of the first part to guarantee that the principal of the mortgages shall not be called for in three years. And the said party of the first part on receiving such payment at the time and in the manner above mentioned, shall at his own proper cost and expense, execute and deliver to the said party of the second part or to his assigns a proper deed for the conveying, and assuring to him or them the fee simple of the said premises from all incumbrances, except the release mortgages, which deed shall contain a general warranty and the usual full covenants. And it is understood that the stipulations aforesaid are to apply to and bind the heirs, executors, administrators and assigns of the respective parties. The wife of the party of the first part, to join in said deed. In witness whereof the parties of these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written, etc."

A committee of three was authorized to prepare and report a circular letter setting forth the object and scope of the institution. Messrs. Hegeman, Dollner and Christmas were appointed such committee. Dr. Ayres stated that he had assurances from nine gentlemen of their intention to contribute $100 each to the funds of the institution to constitute them life-members thereof. A form of certificate of life-membership was prepared, of which a photographic copy is here inserted. The discoloration of the original by age is shown in the copy. The picture of the institution represents it as it was when purchased in 1858.

On March 6, the so-called "charter," which was in fact Chapter 19 of the Laws of 1858, was granted by the Legislature, and the next record on the minutes is as follows: "At a meeting of the members of the Long Island College Hospital, held under the late act of the Legislature incorporating the institution, on the 13th of March, 1858"—Present, Hon. Samuel Sloan, Messrs. Daniel Chauncey, Nathaniel E. James, Samuel W. Slocum, Harold Dollner, James S. Brownson, Richard L. Delisser, Henry Messenger, John J. Van Nostrand, Eugene O'Sullivan, Robert H. Berdell, Henry F. Vail, Luther B. Wyman, Jacques Cortelyou, Theodore Polhemus, Jr., Livingston K. Miller, Cornelius Dever and C. N. Bovee. Hon. Samuel Sloan was called to the chair, and L. K. Miller was appointed Secretary. The act of incorporation, Chapter 19 of the Laws of 1858, passed March 6, 1858, was read, accepted and adopted. J. W. Green resigned as Regent and John J. Van Nostrand was elected to fill the vacancy. The vacancy occasioned by the death of Alfred Large was filled by the election of Hon. Samuel Sloan. A communication was received from Drs. Ayres, Bauer, Braeunlich, Byrne and Olmstead resigning their positions, which was laid on the table. The Board went into an election of officers, as prescribed by the Charter, for a permanent organization. The Nominating Committee reported the following names: for President, Charles Christmas; for Vice-President, Samuel W. Slocum; for Secretary, C. N. Bovee; for Treasurer, Cornelius Dever. These officers were unanimously elected.

THE FIRST COUNCIL.

"On motion of Mr. Sloan it was resolved that Drs. Chauncey L. Mitchell, William H. Dudley, Theodore L. Mason and John Byrne, be appointed members of the Council of the institution under section 11 of its Charter."

FACULTY OF PHYSICIANS, SURGEONS, AND PROFESSORS.

"That Drs. Daniel Ayres and Louis Bauer be also appointed members of the Faculty of Physicians, Surgeons and Professors under the same section, and

"That the gentlemen named constitute a committee to nominate to the next meeting of the Board the remaining officers, provided to be appointed under sections 12 and 13."

It was resolved "that the Secretary notify the gentlemen named as members of the Council and Faculties of their election and request their early co-operation with the Regents in completing the organization of the institution in accordance with its charter."

A paper was signed by all the Regents present (18 in number) by which they each agreed to pay the sum of $100 as life-members. Another paper was also signed by them by which they each agreed to loan to the institution a sum not exceeding $500 before the 15th of April next.

[Mar. 20.] At this meeting Charles Christmas, who was not present when elected, declined election as President, and a committee was appointed to wait on him and solicit him to withdraw his declination. The following communication was received from Drs. Mason, Dudley, Mitchell, Byrne, Ayres and Bauer, accepting their appointments:

"C. N. Bovee, Esq.:

"Dear Sir:—We avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by our meeting as a Committee of Nomination to unite in requesting you to acquaint the Regents with our acceptance of the positions to which we have been severally appointed in the Long Island College Hospital, and of which we were officially apprised in your letter of the 15th inst.

"Be pleased also to present to the Regents the assurance of our earnest desire, to be instrumental in aiding them to establish for the institution the highest character and usefulness.

"Permit us, Dear Sir, in addition to express to you our sense of the kind manner in which you have performed the duty assigned to you and to subscribe,

"Yours very respectfully,

"Theodore L. Mason, M.D., Wm. H. Dudley, M.D., by Dr. Mitchell, C. L. Mitchell, M.D., Council; Daniel Ayres, M.D., Louis Bauer, M.D., Surgeons, etc.

"Hospital Rooms, No.— Court St., Brooklyn, March 19, 1858."

The following communication from the same gentlemen was also received:

"To the Board of Regents of the Long Island College Hospital:

"Gentlemen:—I am hereby officially authorized and have the honor to announce to the Board, that the members of the Council and Faculty appointed at your last meeting have diligently entered upon their duties in accordance with your resolutions; and it gives me great pleasure to add, with a full appreciation of the magnitude of the enterprise, and its important future influence upon the public and medical profession.

"Their deliberations thus far manifest an earnest desire to secure cautious deliberation, unbiased judgment and united action in carrying forward the laudable objects proposed, and completing them as rapidly as is consistent with efficiency and stability. To this end they have unanimously agreed upon the following nominations and suggestions:

"1. Gustavus Braeunlich, M.D., as Physician.

"2. Edwin N. Chapman, M.D., as Physician.

"3. Roger S. Olmstead, M.D., as Adjunct Physician to the Department of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children.

"They would likewise suggest that Section 1, Art. V., of the By-Laws be rendered more explicit, and should read as follows:

"'Sec. 1. A corps of Adjunct Physicians and Surgeons shall be appointed by the Regents, who shall be subject to an annual election, after their qualifications have been passed upon and approved by the Council and Faculty.'

"Respectfully yours, Daniel Ayres, M.D."

A certified copy of the Charter was read and entered in full on the minutes. A Committee was appointed to "report a copy of By-Laws" and of a circular letter at the next meeting. A Committee was also appointed to make arrangements for an inaugural festival.

[April 8.] A donation of $50 from the Brooklyn City Railroad "referred to in the communication of Dr. Ayres" was thankfully accepted.

SAMUEL SLOAN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Mr. Christmas still declining the presidency, Hon. Samuel Sloan was unanimously elected to that office.

The Committee consisting of Messrs. Dever, Delisser, and Messenger appointed to prepare a circular letter, presented the following, which was adopted; and two thousand copies were ordered printed for distribution. The only one of these which we know to exist is in the possession of Dr. William F. Dudley, by whose permission we present a copy to our readers:

"Office of the Long Island College Hospital,
Brooklyn, April, 1858.

"Dear Sir:—The Legislature having by an act of Incorporation authorized the establishment, in the City of Brooklyn, of an institution to be known as the Long Island College Hospital, the Board of Regents respectfully invite your earnest consideration of the subject.

"The Charter and By-Laws have been framed in a broad and liberal spirit, and it is the most earnest desire and intention of the Board that

University of the State of New York

Be it known that the Long Island College Hospital at Brooklyn, New York, U.S.A. is a duly incorporated institution of the University of the State of New York and authorized to confer the degree of Doctor of Medicine and is registered by the regents of the University of the State of New York as maintaining a proper standard in respect to the course of study in medicine and surgery leading to this degree

In witness whereof the Regents grant this certificate no. 1034 under seal of the University, at the capitol in Albany February 15, 1899

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION, L. I. C. H.

FACULTY OF PHYSICIANS, SURGEONS, AND PROFESSORS, 1858.

Louis Bauer, M.D., F.R.C.S. Daniel Ayres, M.D., LL.D.

the Institution shall be so conducted as to reflect both honor and credit upon our 'City of Churches.'

"This Institution appeals in the strongest manner to our benevolence and Christian sympathies. Here the unfortunate, the friendless, and the destitute will find a home when afflicted by sickness, their wants be relieved, and the best medical attendance supplied to them. If unable to pay for these benefits, they are freely bestowed without charge to any and to all.

"It has been the special object of the Board to make an institution for the people—liberal alike to all—throwing open its appointments to fair competition and professional merit; and to its support they cordially invite every citizen in the community.

"In the establishment of this public charity, it is proposed to furnish:

"1. A hospital with an in- and out-door department, for the treatment of medical and surgical cases.

"2. A lying-in department for the poor and unfortunate.

"3. A corps of regularly educated and licensed nurses.

"4. A college, where all the branches of medical science shall be taught and illustrated, and where medical students can be practically trained.

"The sources of casualty are constantly increasing with our population and commerce. A large number of accidents occurring along our water-line, are now necessarily carried to New York, and there is actual demand for a public hospital, upon a liberal foundation, in the southern section of our city.

"It has long since been apparent that the interests of humanity as well as science call loudly for a lying-in institution, where the unfortunate and needy may be provided for in the hour of suffering. The proposed practical training and instruction of nurses, bearing a certificate of the institution after thorough examination, will particularly commend itself as among the pressing wants of our community.

"To carry out the proposed objects of this institution, the Board of Regents have purchased the 'Perry property,' consisting of fourteen lots of ground, located on Henry, Pacific, and Amity streets, an exceedingly eligible and salubrious location, with extensive buildings admirably adapted to the purpose. The terms of purchase render the whole project at once economical, and with the co-operation of a liberal public, an immediate and certain success.

"In England, France, Germany, and our own country it has been practically demonstrated, that a hospital where medical education is not carried on, very rapidly degenerates, and soon fails to represent the average standard of medical science, whilst colleges without hospitals to illustrate their teachings, become theoretical, and produce men untrained and unequal to the practical demands of the community.

"The science of medicine has advanced, by the united efforts of thousands of minds in different quarters of the globe through a succession of ages, and by slow and difficult steps to the present standard. It is even now kept alive by the self-sacrificing labors of the comparatively few. To make this knowledge grow, spread, and reproduce itself in a community, it must be fostered and encouraged. This can only be accomplished by the establishment of institutions where the science of medicine can be cultivated to advantage, and practically tested and taught.

"The City of Brooklyn, from its contiguity to another great city, has in this respect been dependent; and not feeling the immediate necessity of its wants, has neglected to establish within itself the temples of science stored with the resources of knowledge, keeping its own professional men alive to their duty, and fortifying them to grapple with the exigencies of human necessity. The fact is worthy of remark, that in proportion to its population, our city has invested less capital in objects of this character than any other city in this country or Europe.

"There can be no just reason why the continued neglect of these important truths should fasten an opprobrium upon a wealthy city destined for a proud position. It has already position, wealth, influence and philanthropy, but has yet to build up a scientific character by the patronage and elevation of institutions which will become in turn the conservators of its dearest and best interests.

"The science of chemistry, too, is so neglected among us, that a criminal trial here must depend on analyses made and paid for in the City of New York. It is to meet these, with many other demands, and to make them subservient to the cause of Education, by training up men to a practical acquaintance with their profession, that the hospital is combined with the medical college.

"The medical gentlemen attached to the institution do not receive any remuneration for their services.

"Much more might be urged in behalf of this most desirable and valuable enterprise, but it is deemed unnecessary; its vast importance to our city must commend itself to every reflecting mind.

"As a basis of action, the Board of Regents would respectfully solicit your attention to the following propositions:

"1. The payment of $100 constitutes the donor a life-member of this corporation, with the privilege of voting at all elections to be held under the Charter.

"2. The sum of $300 secures a life membership, with one free scholarship in the college. Each scholarship entitles the holder to educate one student of medicine, or two nurse pupils, free of expense.

"3. Larger donations than those stated, will secure all the above mentioned privileges, with such other acknowledgments as the Board of Regents may from time to time institute.

A Committee consisting of Messrs. Van Nostrand, Chauncey and O'Sullivan was appointed to confer with the Council and Faculty as to the necessary alterations that may be required to adapt the building recently purchased to the purposes of the institution, and that the same Committee ascertain and report what furniture will be required, and at the same time obtain proper estimates of the cost in each case and report the same at the next meeting.

[April 17.] The "Joint Board of the Council and Faculty" [first use of the term] through its Secretary, Dr. Ayres, nominated to the Regents Dr. James H. Henry as a member of the Council and A. Hallett as Adjunct Physician. "The gentlemen so appointed to hold office until the next annual meeting, previous to which time all applicants for said offices shall submit to such 'concours' or tests of ability as the Joint Board of the Council and Faculty may prescribe."

On his request, Dr. John Byrne was transferred from the Council to the position of Physician to the Hospital.

FIRST WARDEN.

Mr. Esslinger was appointed Warden.

[May 4.] President Sloan announced that the purchase of the Perry property had been completed, and that the deed thereof had been received and placed on record. The assignment by Samuel Sloan to the Long Island College Hospital of the contract heretofore referred to is dated April 27, 1858, the consideration being one dollar. The deed referred to by President Sloan is from Dennis Perkins and Hannah M. Perkins, his wife, to the Long Island College Hospital, and is dated May 1, 1858. It is recorded in Liber of Conveyances 475, page 308; the consideration is $31,250. Donations of money and furniture and utensils were received, and it was resolved to acknowledge them in the public press.

About May 1, the Dispensary on Court Street was vacated, and the Committee of Management was authorized to let the premises or to cancel the lease on the best terms they could.

[May 15.] The Committee on furniture reported to the Board that they had contracted for 25 bedsteads at $4.00 each, and with this, we presume, housekeeping was begun in the Perry Mansion. Dr. Ayres at this meeting presented a portrait of Sir Astley Cooper, and Dr. Ostrander was appointed House Surgeon. It was resolved to hold the festival during the first week of June, and the Committee was authorized to fix the day, hour, and place and to arrange all details.

INAUGURATION FESTIVAL.

[June 2.] This Committee reported the names of invited guests, the toasts, etc., and other matters connected with the dinner or festival which was to be held on June 3, at the Athenæum. The dinner took place as announced and is reported in full in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle of June 4, 1858, under the heading "Inauguration of the Long Island College Hospital." Hon. Samuel Sloan presided, and there were present J. S. Francis, M.D., of New York, Archbishop Hughes, Charles Christmas, Esq., Bishop Loughlin, Richard O'Gorman, Esq., Rev. William H. Milburn, Samuel I. Prime, Esq., Editor,

Rev. Joseph A. Schmeller, Rev. R. S. Storrs, D.D., Rev. Frederick A. Farley, D.D., Hon. J. S. T. Stranahan, A. A. Low, Esq., S. B. Chittenden, Esq., President John H. Raymond of the Polytechnic Institute, James R. Wood, M.D., C. C. Tracey, Esq., and the leading members of the medical profession of Brooklyn and New York. The total number present was about 200.

After the dinner, speeches were made by many of those already mentioned, and in addition by T. L. Mason, M.D., and Louis Bauer, M.D. In the opening speech Hon. Samuel Sloan, President of the Board of Regents, presented the objects for which the Long Island College Hospital was organized. He said:

"The institution, whose inauguration we this night celebrate, owes its existence to a few warm and generous-hearted citizens of German birth, who designed at first to minister to the suffering poor in a thickly populated portion of our city. In this effort their devotion, zeal and attention soon enlisted the sympathy of others, who with their united energies have in a very few months soothed the suffering and ministered to the relief of nearly two thousand applicants. Many of these were cases of intense severity and involving surgical skill, the results of which reflect the highest credit upon the talent and ability of the enterprising professional gentlemen who have rallied around this struggling charity, who not only contribute their time, but their means for the relief of the unfortunate, seeking their only reward in the elevation and diffusion of professional knowledge."

In the course of his remarks Mr. Sloan read the circular letter of April, 1858, to which we have already referred and printed in full. All the addresses were in the same spirit and were calculated, as they were intended, to excite a public interest in the enterprise, but they are too long for reproduction here. The Chairman of the Committee having the festival in charge later reported that he had sold 205 tickets at $5.00 each, and that after all expenses were paid there remained a balance of $79.62, with $20 still due.

[July 9.] At the meeting of the Regents Dr. Ayres on behalf of the Council and Faculty submitted a communication accompanied by plans and specifications, after which the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

"Whereas a communication has been received from the Joint Board of Council and Faculty, proposing alterations and improvements to the College Hospital Buildings accompanied with plans and specifications and pledging themselves to raise the sum of $2,500 thereupon,

"Resolved, That this Board highly appreciate the liberal proposition of the Joint Board and that the subject of such improvement and alteration be referred to a Special Committee of three to be appointed by the President with power to carry out and complete the same at an expense not to exceed $2,500."

[Oct. 7.] The Building Committee reported the new building to be satisfactorily progressing and that they had received from the Council and Faculty $1,325, and soon after the receipt of $875 additional was reported. In order to raise funds for the maintenance of the institution, it was decided to have a course of lectures delivered, and for this purpose Ralph Waldo Emerson was engaged. His lecture netted $100.

[Nov. 7.] The new building was thrown open to the public and addresses were made by T. L. Mason, M.D., and Messrs. T. H. Rodman and J. M. Van Cott.

1859.

At the meeting of Jan. 8, the following resolution was passed by the Board of Regents:

"That the Joint Board of the Council and Faculty of this institution be notified of the wish of this Board to have the organization of the College Department completed with as little delay as possible, and to report progress at the next regular monthly meeting of this Body."

[Feb. 4.] In answer to the report made at the last meeting a report was received from the Joint Board of Council and Faculty signed by all the members of both bodies, also a majority and minority report, all of which were referred to a committee of the Regents to report at a future meeting.

[May 7.] Dr. Louis Bauer resigned. In accepting his resignation, the Regents expressed " their high regard for his abilities as a physician and surgeon and their esteem for him as a gentleman."

At this meeting the reports which were presented by the Council and Faculty at the February meeting were recommitted to them with instructions to report at the earliest possible day a complete plan of organization, with list of candidates for the several chairs. The Regents, who had up to this time contributed freely toward the support of the institution agreed to raise more money, and for this purpose the city was to be districted and the Regents, furnished with subscription books, were to solicit contributions from the citizens. The President was requested to ascertain what steps were necessary to obtain the proportion of State funds for hospitals and colleges which were due the institution.

[Aug. 4.] A lot on Henry Street which had been given to the institution by Mr. Nicholas Luquer was pledged to Regents Christmas, Sloan, Wyman, Messenger, Chittenden and Rodman, for a loan of $50 each "toward the payment of the claims now pressing on the Treasurer, and those already paid in advance by the Treasurer," and the latter was instructed to report the whole indebtedness of the institution and the amount annually necessary for its maintenance.

[Sept. 28.] At this meeting, the Treasurer reported debts exceeding $5,000, and a Committee consisting of Messrs. Sloan, Rodman, O'Sullivan, Thomae and Messenger was appointed to report at a special meeting as to the means and manner of liquidating the debts of the institution. It was further resolved that no new patients be received, excepting cases of accident.

[Oct. 5.] Dr. T. L. Mason, President of the Joint Board of Council and Faculty, appeared in person before the Regents at this meeting and reported in writing that the Joint Board had held a meeting at the Hospital on October 4, at which were present beside himself, Drs. Henry, Chapman, Mitchell, Dudley, Byrne and Ayres; that at that meeting so much of their report on organization as related to the professorships and fees had been reconsidered and rescinded, and that the report which had been read by Dr. Mitchell had been unanimously adopted, together with certain proposed amendments and alterations of the Charter and By-Laws, and further that he had been delegated to present to the Regents in person the result of their deliberations. This report was signed by Dr. Mason as Chairman and Dr. Ayres as Secretary.

The report referred to as having been "read by Dr. Mitchell" is as follows:

"The Joint Board of Council and Faculty respectfully recommend to the Regents the establishment of the following professorships in the College department of the Long Island College Hospital, and they also nominate as candidates for appointment to the professorships the gentlemen whose names are respectively appended to this, viz.: A professorship

"1. Of the Theory and Practice of Medicine, Professor Austin Flint, M.D.

"2. Of the Principles and Practice of Surgery, Professor Frank Hamilton, M.D.

"3. Of Surgical Anatomy and Operative Surgery with Demonstration on the Cadaver, Joseph C. Hutchison, M.D.

"4. Of Obstetrics and the Diseases of Women and Children, J. D. Trask, M.D.

"5. Of Physiology.

"6. Of General and Descriptive Anatomy, D. C. Enos, M.D.

"Chemistry and Medical Jurisprudence.

"Materia Medica, E. N. Chapman, M.D.

"Gentlemen would have been engaged to fill the two professorships vacant but for the embarrassed financial condition of the institution and the advice of the President of the Board of Regents to suspend the operation of the Committee until some arrangements which should place the institution on a permanent basis should if possible be effected.

"The Committee were indeed unwilling themselves to proceed under the circumstances.

"They nevertheless have made such inquiries and obtained such information as render them confident that they can easily complete the organization in time for the successful opening of the course of instruction.

"In submitting these results of the labors of the Committee the Joint Board congratulate the Regents on the success of their efforts to procure the co-operation of men of elevated character, attainment and reputation in that profession, a knowledge of which it will be their province under your auspices to disseminate.

"The Board feel confident that few institutions of a like character have commenced with a professional corps comprising as a whole more real merit and a more extended and favorable reputation, or presenting higher claims to the respect and confidence of their profession throughout the country.

"The preliminary means necessary to put the department into operation are under certain provisions guaranteed, and it only remains for your Board to place and sustain the Hospital on a liberal foundation to secure for the institution a certain and honorable success.

"The embarrassments from which we are just emerging will we trust teach all of us wisdom, success in difficult circumstances should encourage us and we may safely expect and hope for a future to our enterprise enhanced in its beneficent results by the very trials to which it has been subjected, and by the obstacles which it has overcome.

"The said Board also recommends that the further details and arrangements of the course of instruction be entrusted to the 'Faculty of the College.'

"They would also nominate as Physician to the Hospital, William Heuser, M.D., a German physician of this city, in place of Dr. Braeunlich, resigned.

"The above report was read at the meeting of the Joint Board of the Long Island College Hospital, October 4, 1859, and is the report referred to in the minutes as read by me.

"C. L. Mitchell."

At the same meeting the following was also presented:

"The offer to guarantee three thousand dollars for the purpose of carrying on the Collegiate Department is based on the following proposition:

"1. That the Regents shall place the institution on a permanent basis by extinguishing the floating debt, and taking measures to liquidate the mortgage on the property.

"2. Such portions of the Hospital Buildings as are necessary for the purpose of the College Department be devoted to the use of the department and that the Council and College Faculty be authorized to make such changes therein as may be necessary.

"3. That such assistance as can be rendered by the attachés of the Hospital be rendered under the direction of the Faculty of the College, the Council and the Committee of Management.

"4. That the net proceeds of the College be applied to the remuneration of those who have guaranteed the expenses for the first term until the amount they have paid is reimbursed.

C. L. Mitchell,
W. H. Dudley,
T. L. Mason."

The report presented by Dr. Mason was accepted, and thereupon it was unanimously resolved, "that while the Board of Regents approve of the unanimous report of the Joint Board of the Council and Faculty, they regret that the financial embarrassments of the institution are such as to compel them reluctantly to return the same without further action."

Later at the same meeting the Committee on Liquidation, through Mr. Rodman, Chairman, presented the following report, which was accepted:

"The Special Committee of the Long Island College Hospital to whom it was referred to ascertain and report the proper mode of liquidating the indebtedness and winding up the affairs thereof, respectfully report:

"That in the opinion of your Committee a sale at public auction, on two weeks' notice in the newspapers of this city and by hand bills posted extensively, is the best manner of disposing of the property of the institution, and they recommend the adoption of the following resolution for that purpose:

"Resolved, That the Committee on Liquidation be and they are hereby authorized to advertise the property of this institution for sale at public auction, on the 15th day of November next, subject to the mortgage of $20,000 now on the property.

"Respectfully submitted,

"Thos. H. Rodman, Geo. F. Thomae, Harry Messenger, Committee.

"Brooklyn, October 31, 1859.

The report was on motion unanimously adopted, all of the nineteen Regents present voting in favor thereof: These were Messrs. Christmas, Chittenden, Polhemus, Thomae, Van Nostrand, Messenger, Chauncey, Rodman, Delisser, Slocum, Hegeman, Dever, Brownson, Wyman, James, Bovee, Miller, Dollner and Berdell. Mr. Sloan, the President, was absent.

"On motion of Mr. Bovee it was resolved that the Hospital property proper—that is the building and 14 lots on Henry, Amity, and Pacific Streets—be sold at a price not less than $28,500.

"On motion resolved that the details of the sale in conformity with the report of the Committee on Liquidation be referred to said Committee with power.

"Resolved, That the Visiting Committee be authorized to close this institution, allowing Mr. Esslinger, the warden, to remain free of cost, but without compensation."

[Nov. 28.] The Board of Regents held their next meeting on this date at which the following communications were read:

"Hon. Samuel Sloan:

"Dear Sir:—The action of the Board of Regents at their regular meeting on the report and nominations unanimously submitted to them by our Joint Board, was received with deep regret. Anxious to secure to the institution the eminent talent named in our report the gentlemen who offered at that time a guarantee in regard to expenses, desire to relieve your Board of the embarrassment which seems to somewhat clog their action. Referring you to the enclosed communication which should, I think, remove all objection, especially as you unanimously approved our action in the report, permit me to urge upon you and upon the Board favorable response, and a confirmation of the nominations. Yours, etc.,

T. L. Mason, Chairman Joint Board."

"Brooklyn, November 28, 1859.

"Brooklyn, November 28, 1859.

"Hon. Samuel Sloan, President Board of Regents, L. I. C. Hospital:

"Dear Sir:—The undersigned respectfully request through you, that your Board would reconsider their decision of October 4, declining to confirm the nominations of Professors in the Collegiate Department, which were made by the Joint Board in a unanimous report of that date.

"We are led to make this proposal in view of the importance of the measure, and of the fact that your Board felt 'compelled, reluctantly and with regret' to decide not to confirm the nominations, or 'adopt the plan' of organization on account of the financial embarrassments of the institution.

"We were aware of those embarrassments and hoped that our offer to guarantee the expenses of the Collegiate Department, which we estimate at $3,000, at least would have relieved the Board in some measure in that respect. But having ascertained that the conditions of that offer, which required the raising of funds by the Regents, were an obstacle to its acceptance, we now propose to withdraw those conditions, and to assume the whole cost of the teaching department for the first Course, provided that the proceeds (if any) of the department be applied to the reimbursement of the amount which we shall advance, until such amount shall be repaid.

"The reasons which induced us to attempt (at the repeated requests of your Board) the difficult and embarrassing duty of organizing, with a full corps of professors, the teaching department of a medical institution (difficult under any conditions, but in the circumstances in which we most unexpectedly found ourselves placed, peculiarly so), and which prompted us to persevere until our object had been most successfully accomplished, have lost none of their cogency by time or reflection. They are reasons bearing directly and forcibly upon the interests of the inhabitants of our city, on the welfare of the medical profession, and on the reputation of your Board. They have also a relation to the position of the Committee, who in order to accomplish the end to which you urged them by repeated official requests, found it necessary to put at hazard in a measure their reputations for sound judgment and discretion and for integrity, in their negotiations with the gentlemen whose consent to be put in nomination they at length and not without difficulty obtained.

"The Committee were not at liberty to doubt that a Board holding the honorable and responsible position, and the important public trusts confided to you, would redeem any obligation of this nature necessarily incurred by those who were at your solicitation laboring in your service. They are yet unwilling to doubt it, but should they be disappointed, your Committee and the Committee of your Joint Board have this consolatory reflection: They have not failed to perform the duty assigned to them. Uninfluenced by any personal consideration, they have honestly striven to promote the welfare of the institution, feeling that they were intrusted with important public interests, and they have been able to present to you for your approval and confirmation a corps of teachers who will do honor to themselves, and to you should you confer upon them the positions for which they are recommended.

"Our work is done. What remains—with all its responsibility—remains with you. Respectfully,

T. L. Mitchell.
C. L. Mason.
W. H. Dudley."

On motion of Mr. Thomae the report of the Joint Board of the Council and Faculty presented October 5, was called up for reconsideration. It was moved by Mr. Rodman, "That the communication of the Council and Faculty in reference to the organization of the Teaching Department submitted this evening be accepted and that the nominations of Professors proposed by their report heretofore presented and referred to in the communication be confirmed."

The ayes and noes were called—10 ayes, 5 noes, 1 not voting. The details and arrangements of the course of instruction were left to the Faculty of the College and the Council.

SALE OF THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

[Dec. 22.] At the next meeting of the Board of Regents the Special Committee on the sale of the property of the Hospital reported the sale of the premises on Henry Street between Pacific and Amity Streets at auction to Dr. Wm. H. Dudley for $28,550, subject to the mortgages to the amount of $20,000, and that the lot on Henry Street near Hamilton Avenue, the gift of Mr. Luqueer, was withdrawn.

Mr. Thomae moved that the executive officers be authorized and directed to execute a deed of the property sold to the purchaser under the seal of the corporation on his complying with the terms of the sale; this was carried. This deed is dated January 12, 1860, and is recorded in Liber of Conveyance 517, page 241, the consideration being $8,550. The property remained vested in Dr. Dudley until May 11, 1865. Mr. Christmas offered a resolution that the chairman of the Liquidating Committee be authorized to make a settlement of the liens on the property required to be discharged by the terms of the sale, to adjust the liens of the Regents under the second mortgage, and have that mortgage discharged out of the proceeds of the sale and the pro rata assessments of the Regents for their proportions of the floating debt, including the payment of that debt, which resolution was adopted. The agreement of the Regents to pay their proportions of the debt was then signed by all present in these words:

"We, the undersigned, hereby agree to pay our proportions on demand, of the debt now outstanding on the Long Island College Hospital, as the same may be certified and approved by Liquidating Committee, H. Messenger, E. O'Sullivan, T. H. Rodman and C. Dever, Treas.

"Brooklyn, December 13, 1859.

Sam Sloan (not to exceed three hundred dollars to be deducted from note now held by me).
Cornelius Dever (not to exceed three hundred dollars to be deducted from note now held by me).
George F. Thomae (not to exceed three hundred dollars to be deducted from note now held by me).
Abraham B. Baylis.
Theodore Polhemus, Jr., on same conditions as Mr. Sloan.
Charles Christmas.
H. Dollner.
N. E. James.
Eugene O'Sullivan.
Harry Messenger.
John J. Van Nostrand.
Thomas H. Rodman."

A communication was received from Dr. Mason, Chairman of the Council, announcing the appointment of Drs. Doremus and Dalton* as Professors in the College, which appointments were approved and confirmed by the Board.

"RE-OPENING" OF THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

First Course of Lectures.

[Mar. 26.] At the meeting of the Regents held on this date an invitation was received to attend with their families the opening lecture of the institution, on Thursday evening, March 29. The regular lectures of the first course began the next day. On that day, March 30, 1860, the Brooklyn Daily Eagle contained an account of the proceedings of this "opening lecture." Before giving a report of the addresses it said:

"The Long Island College Hospital, which has been for some time in the past closed, was reopened last night under auspices which promise to the institution a long career of usefulness. The Charter of the College Hospital was obtained in 1858, and was designed to combine, as its name indicates, a College Hospital for the treatment of patients. From various circumstances extensively agitated in this paper at the time, the institution was not successful, and the department of instruction has for some time been closed. Owing to the energy of the Regents and Council, and to the liberality of one of them in particular, these difficulties have been overcome, and the Long Island College Hospital starts with means which will enable it not only to succor the afflicted, but to establish a College for instruction, the benefit of which will be experienced in the city in which it is located. The Commencement exercises last evening were numerously attended, many of the audience being ladies. We noticed among those present some of our first citizens, men who are always on hand when the interests of the city are to be advanced."

The proceedings on this occasion were opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Francis Vinton, after which Dr. T. L. Mason made an address in which he stated the objects for which the institution was established, and gave a brief history of it. In the course of his remarks he adverted to the beneficial effect which such an institution would have upon the city.

After referring to the central and healthy location of Brooklyn, and its schools of great excellence, its churches and teachers of religion, Dr. Mason said, "Brooklyn, possessing all these advantages, had neglected too long to establish schools for professional education. This thing she lacked, and in this she was behind all the cities of her size in this country and in Europe. This was felt to be a reproach which ought to be removed from her, and it is a source of honest pride, I think, that it has been permitted to medical men to take the first step toward the performance of that duty."

* Prof. Doremus was appointed to the Chair of Chemistry and Medical Jurisprudence, and Prof. Dalton to that of Physiology.

The students who had matriculated for the first course of lectures were present, and to them Dr. Mason addressed a few remarks, promising them that "nothing should be wanting on the part of their teachers to make them theoretically and practically acquainted with their noble profession." In concluding his remarks to them he said: "Gentlemen, aim higher! You have entered a path glorious with the memory of a long line of worthies whose names the world will not willingly let die; be not content with anything short of the highest excellence."

Dr. Frank H. Hamilton, Professor of the Principles and Practice of Surgery, followed Dr. Mason in an address, in which he described the use and progress of medical science in the United States, and especially in the State of New York. In the course of the address he stated that the first human subject ever dissected in North America by a scientific physician was the body of Harmanus Carroll, who was executed by sentence of the law in the city of New York in 1759. The dissection was performed by Drs. John Bard and Peter Middleton before a small class of medical students, but it does not appear that these gentlemen gave any regular lectures. They injected the blood vessels and made a preparation of the body. This address is full of interesting and instructive data.

After the proceedings were finished, the audience examined the several departments of the hospital, expressing "much gratification at the neatness and order which were everywhere manifest."

[June 11.] The Regents resolved "that the Collegiate Department of the Long Island College Hospital be again delegated to the Council of the institution in accordance with their letter of the 28th of November last, and that all emoluments arising therefrom be received by them and all disbursements connected therewith be liquidated by them, of which emoluments and disbursements they shall render an account to the Board of Regents."

FIRST COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

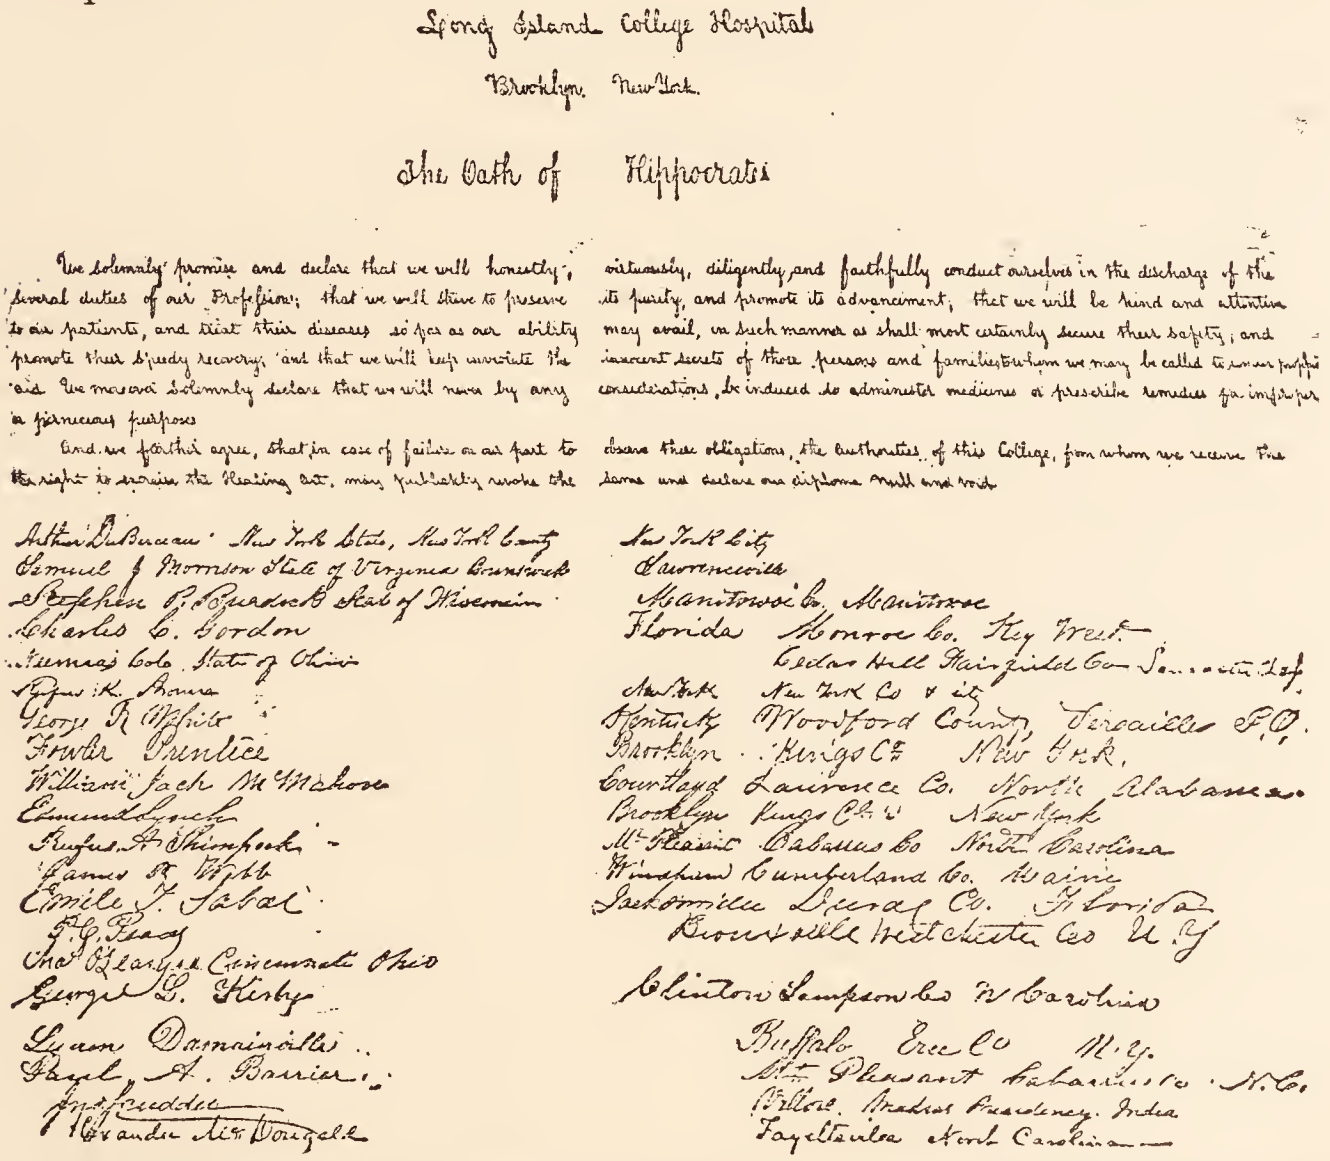

[July 24.] On this date occurred the first "Commencement," or Graduating Exercises of the College. They were held in the chapel of the Packer Institute, and are reported in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, of July 25, 1860. On the platform were Senator Samuel Sloan, President, Mr. T. H. Rodman, Secretary, and other members of the Board of Regents. Beside them were Drs. C. L. Mitchell, W. H. Dudley, T. L. Mason, and J. H. Henry, the Council; and of the Faculty, Professors Austin Flint, R. O. Doremus, F. H. Hamilton, J. C. Dalton, Dewitt C. Enos, E. N. Chapman, J. C. Hutchison and J. D. Trask. Before quoting the addresses the Eagle said:

"We chronicled in March last the reopening of the Long Island College Hospital. From the well-known ability and energy, and more than all from the self-sacrificing spirit of those at its head, we anticipated the most favorable results. From time to time we have visited the College and have felt it our duty to commend the admirable arrangements of its directors and the ability of its faculty. Still the undertaking was an experiment, the result of which only time could tell. From the statement made last night, no less than from the encouragement and sympathy manifested by some of the ablest members of the medical profession, we are justified in saying, that the experiment is successful and that Brooklyn can boast of having a medical college within its borders second to none, in the ability of its faculty and its opportunities for imparting a thorough medical education."

After music by the orchestra, Rev. Dr. R. S. Storrs offered prayer. Dr. Mitchell addressed the students and read to them the Hippocratic Oath, and Dr. Dudley, Registrar, presented the class for the degree, naming each one of the twenty-one. Upon them Dr. Mason, President of the Collegiate Department, conferred the degree of Doctor in Medicine, in Latin, handing each one a diploma. After this ceremony he made an address to the audience concluding with a farewell to the graduating class. Prof. Austin Flint followed Dr. Mason in a short address. The valedictory address was delivered by S. J. Morrison of the class; after which the faculty and graduates partook of the hospitality of Dr. Mason.

Thus ended the first Commencement of the Long Island College Hospital.

Brooklyn, New York.

The Oath of Hippocrates

We solemnly promise and declare that we will honestly, diligently and faithfully conduct ourselves in the discharge of the several duties of our Profession; that we will strive to preserve its purity, and promote its advancement; that we will be kind and attentive to our patients, and treat their diseases so far as our ability may avail, in such manner as shall most certainly secure their safety; and promote their speedy recovery; and that we will keep inviolate the secrets of those persons and families to whom we may be called to render professional aid. We moreover solemnly declare that we will never by any considerations be induced to administer medicines or prescribe remedies for improper purposes.

And we further agree, that in case of failure on our part to observe these obligations, the authorities of this College, from whom we receive the right to exercise the Healing Art, may justifiably revoke the same and declare our diplomas null and void.

The Hippocratic Oath and the names and addresses of the first graduating class are herewith presented, having been photographed from the book which contains the autograph of every alumnus who has received his diploma from the institution.

We also reproduce the first diploma granted by the institution. The original is in the possession of the Faculty, the recipient, Dr. Arthur Du Berceau, who died Nov. 5, 1895, having left specific instructions that after his death the diploma should be returned to his Alma Mater.

[September.] The Council proposed a plan for increasing the accommodations of the institution, the estimated cost of which was $6,000. This was referred to a Committee of the Regents to cooperate with the Council in carrying out the plan. At this meeting the thanks of the Board were presented to the Council "for their efficient and successful organization of the Collegiate Department of the institution."

1861.

The Preliminary Course began on February 18. The Second Regular Course of Lectures began on March 18, and continued until June 16, on which date Commencement occurred.

[April 6.] At the Regents' meeting the Treasurer made a financial report covering the period from May 1, 1858, when the Hospital was opened in the Perry Mansion, to April 1, 1861, and reported a balance in the treasury of $23.20. The Finance Committee was instructed to "report a plan for adjusting the advances made by Dr. Dudley." The amount of these advances will appear later.

[May 13.] Mr. Samuel Sloan resigned the presidency, having served since April 8, 1858. The resignation was, however, laid upon the table.

At this meeting the treasurer was authorized to convey to Dr. Dudley, for moneys advanced by him to the hospital, the lot in Henry Street, which had been given by Mr. Nicholas Luqueer to the hospital.

MR. H. B. CROMWELL ELECTED PRESIDENT.

[May 27.] Mr. Sloan's resignation was accepted and Mr. H. B. Cromwell was elected President. The president was directed to ascertain from Dr. Dudley for what sum he would agree to carry on the hospital department of the institution for the current year.

[Oct. 4.] President Cromwell stated to the Regents "that having been unable to obtain the necessary assistance within the Board of Regents, or others interested to carry on the institution successfully, he would beg leave respectfully to tender his resignation."

[Dec. 28.] Mr. Sloan stated that he had volunteered to collect subscriptions to pay off the floating debt of the Hospital, in which he had succeeded to the extent of $8,500, a portion of which had been collected and paid over to Dr. Dudley in liquidation of advances made by him in behalf of the hospital, and he wished a committee appointed to adjust the accounts with the Doctor. A proposition was received from the Council agreeing on their part to assume all the responsibilities of the Collegiate Department for the ensuing year, and to hold the Board of Regents harmless from all risk and expenditure for the same. This was accepted, and the Council was authorized to do all acts necessary to carry out the agreement. A proposition was also received from the Hospital Faculty and Hospital Staff to carry on the Hospital Department from the first of November last, free of charge to the Board of Regents. It was unanimously accepted.

The following is a copy of the proposition in regard to the Hospital:

"At a meeting of the Hospital Staff, held October 10, 1861, the following propositions were tendered to the Council and Regents, viz.:

1. "The Hospital Staff to receive their appointment from the Board of Regents or the Faculty of the Hospital.

2. "We propose that the Hospital be placed in a working condition for thirty patients, including beds, bedding, cooking and chamber utensils. And we agree to keep the supply up to the standard in which we receive it.

3. "We propose that the actual expenses incurred for food, medicines and surgical appliances, for patients for the exclusive benefit of the Teaching Department during the lecture term, be defrayed by that department.

4. "We propose that the cases in the Hospital belonging to the Teaching Department, shall be under the charge of that department, that all cases brought to the Hospital by the Hospital Faculty shall be under the charge of the Hospital Faculty; but these cases may be made available for clinical instruction by the College Faculty by mutual arrangement between the Faculties for that purpose, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 3, 6, 9 and 10 of the By-Laws.

5. "The professors of medicine, surgery and of clinical obstetrics shall have the exclusive control of such patients as they may select from the out-door department for clinical purposes.

"Receiving the hospital in the above-mentioned working condition, free from rent, water tax, and college expenses, we agree to take charge of the In-Door and Out-Door Departments, defray all the expenses and manage the same, in accordance with the Charter and By-Laws of the Institution.

"Signed as follows:

Wm. H. Davol, M.D., Arnold Hallett, M.D., J. E. Clark, M.D., Physicians.

T. H. Hobart Burge, M.D., William Gilfillan, M.D., D. A. Dodge, M.D., Surgeons.

—— Murphy, M.D., Assistant Physician."

"Brooklyn, October 14, 1861.

"We, the only members of the existing Hospital Faculty, would heartily approve of the gentlemen composing the medical staff as an addition to our corps, and we do hereby obligate ourselves conjointly with them to carry on the hospital as specified in their proposal.

"Signed, E. N. Chapman, M.D."

A Committee was appointed to arrange for a course of popular lectures in behalf of the institution.

MR. SAMUEL SLOAN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Mr. Cromwell's resignation as President was accepted, and Mr. Sloan was unanimously re-elected to a position which he had already so ably filled from April 8, 1858, to May 27, 1861.

1862.

[Mar. 31.] The Committee having in charge the course of popular lectures reported $415 net receipts. The course was given by Rev. Drs. Storrs and Vinton and Rev. Mr. Willetts. The Committee which had been appointed to raise money in aid of the Hospital, reported subscriptions to the amount of $9,244.18.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS OF THE CIVIL WAR RECEIVED INTO THE HOSPITAL.

[July 21.] A special meeting of the Regents was held at the residence of Dr. Dudley "To take into consideration the proper course to be pursued by the Board of Regents under existing circumstances; one hundred and twenty-five wounded soldiers having been received into the Hospital, and numerous contributions having been liberally made by the citizens of Brooklyn, for their comfort and relief, and many sympathizing friends having volunteered their services to watch with and nurse the suffering thus placed under our care. It was deemed proper to make some public acknowledgment of our obligation to those who have provided such timely relief and assistance."

The following card was prepared for publication in the newspapers in accordance with the above:

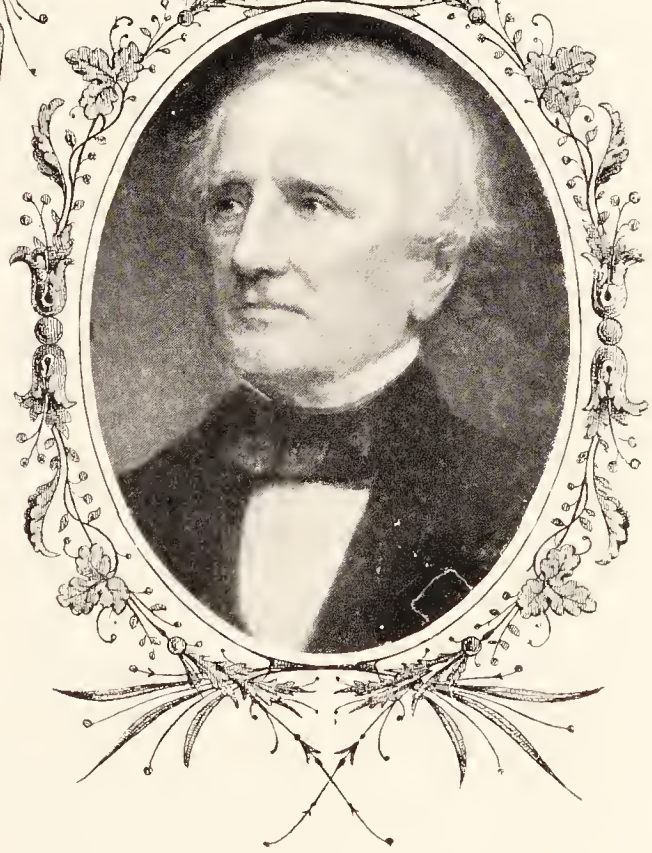

"At a special meeting of the Board of Regents of the Long Island College Hospital, held Monday evening, July 21st inst., it was resolved that the thanks of this Board are due and are hereby tendered to the public of the City of Brooklyn for the efficient and timely sympathy expressed for the wounded and sick soldiers at present under the charge of this institution with which we have the honor to be connected, and beg leave to assure those who have so liberally contributed the many articles so essential to the comfort and relief of the suffering soldiers, that their munificence is not unappreciated by the poor men for whose benefit this liberality has been displayed. It is the intention of the Board, at a future time, to make a more extended acknowledgment by publishing a list of the contributions with the names of the donors."

[Dec. 29.] A meeting of the Regents was held at the residence of Dr. Dudley, 291 Henry Street. The President stated that about $1,300 was still due Dr. Dudley for advances made by him for the benefit of the institution. The Secretary stated that he had received and transmitted to the Comptroller of State an application in due form so that the Hospital might participate in State funds. The Treasurer reported that he had received $963 from the Comptroller.

On request, Drs. Mason and Dudley appeared before the Board, and Dr. Mason made the following statements:

"That in consequence of rumors prejudicial to the management of the hospital, put in circulation through the malice of some evil disposed person, and of representations made to the Head of the Hospital Department at Washington, a committee was appointed to investigate matters concerning the treatment of the wounded and sick soldiers under our care. This Committee after having fully satisfied themselves, reported that the representations were entirely false and wholly without foundation in fact, and the affairs of the institution were conducted to the entire satisfaction of the medical officers of the United States; 120 sick and wounded soldiers were received in the first instalment and 91 more subsequently; 61 now remain in the hospital, besides 15 other patients, of whom but three pay, and they but partial board. That the income from the United States patients as above meets the expenditures by observing the strictest economy and dispensing with the services of a Superintendent, and with the aid which has been generously furnished by the public toward the fitting up of the building, etc. Between 600 and 700 cases were treated in the Out-door Department, and the Teaching Department has been self-sustaining during the past year, with a fair prospect of continuing to do so for the coming year."

Application was ordered to be made to the Common Council for a portion of city funds appropriated for hospital purposes.

[From December 29, 1862, to March 17, 1864, there are no records of meetings of the Board of Regents.]

1864.

[Mar. 17.] Dr. Mason, who at this meeting was elected a Regent, reported that a few friends of the institution, without organized effort on the part of the officers or Regents, had subscribed $7,000 toward paying off the debt now amounting to about $22,000, provided the whole amount shall be raised and the institution freed from liabilities.

THEODORE POLHEMUS, JR., ELECTED PRESIDENT.

[Mar. 28.] Mr. Theodore Polhemus, Jr., was elected President.

[May 30.] The Council notified the Board of their intention to decline becoming responsible for the hospital expenses for the ensuing year.

[June 16.] The Board of Regents agreed to take 100 soldiers at $6 per week each, and the Council was authorized to expend $500 for beds, bedding, cooking utensils, etc.

[June 27.] On this date, the Board of Regents authorized the employment of a Superintendent of the Hospital.

[July 1.] The Commencement Exercises were held in the Athenæum. Dr. T. L. Mason, in the course of remarks which he made as President of the College, said that during the six years of its existence the institution had relieved more than 40,000 patients. During the year just past, 1,000 in-door and as many out-door patients had been treated; and that the College was out of debt for current expenses. The permanent debt of the institution had been reduced from $32,000 to $21,000, besides having spent $5,000 for alterations, improvements, and furniture, making in all an outlay of $16,000. The only debt for which provision had not been made, up to May 1, 1864, was $21,000, which was secured by mortgage, and that toward the payment of this $18,000 had been subscribed, on condition that the whole should be raised within a reasonable time.

Two unique features of this Commencement were the presentation by the graduating class to Prof. William Gilfillan of a vote of thanks for "the clear, definitive and instructive manner in which he has discussed and presented the facts and principles of Therapeutics and Materia Medica during the past session," and the presentation to Prof. E. N. Chapman of "an elegant and substantial gold chain."

In order to raise $25,000, $21,000 for the mortgage debt and $5,000 for maintenance of the Hospital, the Regents offered the following inducements:

"1. Subscribers of $10 shall be entitled to ten tickets, which will introduce the bearer to the special notice of the medical attendants in the Out-door Department.

"2. The payment of $100 shall constitute the donor a life-member of this corporation with a like privilege.

"3. The payment of $500 secures a life-membership of the corporation, with one free scholarship in the College. Each scholarship entitles the holder to educate one student or two nurse pupils, free of expense, except the matriculation fee of $5 for each year of attendance and the regular graduation fee of the College.

"4. Larger donations than these will secure all the above mentioned privileges, with such other acknowledgments as the Board of Regents may from time to time institute.

Signed,

Theodore Polhemus, Jr.,
John J. Van Nostrand,
F. W. Keutgen,
Thomas H. Rodman,
Gustavus A. Brett,
Committee."

[Dec. 5.] At the meeting of December 5, 1864, the Committee on Subscriptions reported that $22,800 had been subscribed, of which $12,320 had been paid in, and that the balance could probably be collected before May 15.

In the minutes of this meeting we find a statement of "The Long Island College Hospital in account with Dr. W. H. Dudley," by which it appears that during the period from Jan. 14, 1860, to Feb. 20, 1862, Dr. Dudley had advanced $10,874.94 to pay the current expenses of the hospital; $9,659.18 had been repaid, $3,000 of which he paid himself, and there remained a balance due him of $1,215.76.

The greater part of the amount thus repaid was contributed by the following individuals:

W. H. Dudley	$3,000	L. B. Wyman	$200
Sam. Sloan	500	H. B. Cromwell	500
C. L. Mitchell	500	J. J. Van Nostrand	50

These subscriptions were increased by $415, profits from the Lecture Course.

JOSEPH RIPLEY ELECTED PRESIDENT.

The death of Mr. Theodore Polhemus, Jr., President of the Board of Regents, was announced, and Mr. Joseph Ripley was elected to that office.

1865.

[Sept. 28.] A special meeting of the Regents was held to make arrangements between the Council and Regents to carry on the Collegiate Department. Immediate action was necessary in order to publish the college arrangements for the ensuing year. A Committee was ordered to make with the Council necessary arrangements and contracts.

[Dec. 18.] The Visiting Committee recommended that the stable building on Pacific Street be converted into a dispensary, at an estimated cost of $1,000; and also recommended the appointment of a matron, which was made at a compensation of $200 per annum.

This Committee was authorized to make the necessary alterations for a dispensary as recommended, upon such terms of payment as might be met by the funds expected from the State, the sale of the Luqueer lot on Coles Street, and the receipts from the Teaching Department, and to appoint a matron.

The Finance Committee reported that, including $4,000 from the city, there was enough money in the treasury to pay the mortgage on the institution, and the floating debt to November 26, 1865, exclusive of what might be obtained from the sale of the lot donated by Mr. Luqueer.

The following is a list of the donors:

1866.

[Jan. 29.] The Finance Committee reported the payment of the last balance due on the mortgage and a balance of $7,000 in the treasury, which was by resolution to be applied to the payment of the floating debt. This Committee was directed to file satisfaction pieces of mortgage and to record deed from Dr. W. H. Dudley to the Board of Regents. This deed from "William H. Dudley and Charlotte G. Dudley, his wife, to the Long Island College Hospital" is dated May 11, 1865, and is recorded in Liber of Conveyances 692, page 69, the consideration being $1.

MR. JOHN JAMES VAN NOSTRAND ELECTED PRESIDENT.

[April 30 and May 7.] Mr. Ripley resigned the Presidency, and on May 7 Mr. John James Van Nostrand was elected to fill the vacancy.

[Oct. 8.] Dr. J. H. Henry resigned from the Council and Dr. George Marvin was appointed in his place. $100 was received from each of the following: Messrs. J. J. Van Nostrand, R. W. Ropes, J. H. Prentice, F. W. Keutgen, W. B. Hunter, Clement Heerdt, Chas. Christmas (for life-membership), J. C. Beale and T. H. Rodman.

[Nov. 12.] The indebtedness of the institution to September 30, 1866, was reported to be $3,196.13.

[Dec. 31.] The Treasurer reported having received $1,900 since June, and the indebtedness to be about $3,200.

1867.

[Feb. 25.] Action was taken to obtain, through legislation, State aid for the Dispensary.

1868.

[June 1.] The Board resolved "that an additional building be erected on the Pacific Street side of the institution, substantially as per plans and specifications of M. J. Morrill;" also to make improvements in the old building, and a loan of $20,000 was authorized for these purposes.

[December.] The Long Island College Hospital Journal Association, was organized in this month, and continued in existence until 1876. Its objects were discussion of professional topics; reading of papers and reporting of new matter in the different medical journals. Its officers and members were:

Presidents: J. H. Hobart Burge, 1870-71; Samuel G. Armor, 1872-76; Vice-presidents: William Wallace, 1870-71; Alex. J. C. Skene, 1872-76; Secretary: Lewis D. Mason, 1868-76. Treasurer: Jarvis S. Wight, 1868-76.

[Mar. 1.] The Building Committee were authorized to throw the new wing open to public inspection on the 18th, and Dr. Mason was requested to make some remarks on the occasion.

[Nov. 1.] The institution pledged itself to pay one-half the deficiency in carrying on the school for the next year, the whole gross deficiency not to exceed $5,000.

[June 6.] The Treasurer was authorized to liquidate a debt of about $3,500 due from the Hospital to the Collegiate Department.

[Oct. 29.] Authority was given to erect a new building at a cost not to exceed $10,000 to accommodate additional U. S. sailors. This amount was subsequently increased to $12,000, and later to an amount necessary to complete the structure in a manner corresponding with the wing on the corner of Henry and Pacific Streets. The new building or wing was built on the corner of Henry and Amity Streets.

[Feb. 6.] The new wing was nearly finished and arrangements were made to have it opened at the beginning of the collegiate term. One of the rooms was to be appropriated to the use of any patient sent by the N. Y. Physicians' Mutual Aid Association.

[Dec. 4.] The Secretary was directed to notify the Board of Police Commissioners " that ambulances can be obtained by policemen at this institution for the purpose of more readily conveying cases of accident to the Long Island College Hospital."

FIRST READING AND RECITATION TERM.

[Oct. 7.] On this date the first Reading and Recitation Term began; for particulars as to this term, see page 53. In the announcement of the establishment of the Reading and Recitation Term, it is stated that during this term "in addition to daily recitations in the elementary branches of medicine and surgery, the class will be divided into sections for practical training in the hospital wards. Instruction will be given by the members of the hospital staff who are on duty in the several departments of medicine, surgery and obstetrics. Ample facilities will be afforded for dissection throughout the term."

1873.

[May 13.] A Pavilion Hospital was authorized to be constructed at a cost of $300, the amount to be raised by voluntary contributions.

[August.] The City Ambulance Service was established with one ambulance at the Long Island College Hospital and the other at the Eastern District Hospital.

1874.

[Oct. 22.] The construction of a new dissecting room was authorized, at a cost not to exceed $3,000: the Faculty of the College had previously agreed to pay $500 toward this.

Mr. J. J. Van Nostrand resigned the Presidency.

1875.

THOMAS H. RODMAN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

[April 5.] Mr. Thomas H. Rodman was elected President.

1876.

[June 5.] Dr. J. Sullivan Thorne was elected a member of the Council.

1880.

TRAINED NURSES ADVOCATED.

[Jan. 5.] Mr. W. J. Osborne offered a resolution at a meeting of the Regents that the subject of employing trained nurses in the institution be referred to a Committee for report. This was done, and on April 5, 1880, the Committee reported that it was "not advisable at the present time to enter into the scheme." The report was adopted.

[Feb. 2.] The Introductory Lecture of this year was delivered by Prof. Jarvis S. Wight; subject, "The Fallacies of Popular Clinical Medicine."

[May 3.] On motion of Mr. Osborne, the subject of trained nurses was again referred to the same committee for report.

[January.] A medical journal, The Pathologist, E. S. Bunker, M.D., Editor, was published. It contained reports of post-mortem examinations made at the Long Island College Hospital, together with descriptions of pathological specimens. The last number appeared in January, 1883. The introductory lecture of this year was delivered by Prof. E. S. Bunker; subject, "The Touchstone of Professional Worth."

[Feb. 7.] The Brooklyn Pathological Society was invited to hold its meetings in the Hospital.

[April 4.] Dr. T. L. Mason resigned from the Council. Drs. George G. Hopkins, J. L. Zabriskie and Joel W. Hyde were elected members of the Council.

[May.] The senior class published a paper, Vox Studentium. Three numbers appeared: May, June and July.

[June 25.] The Faculty of the College agreed, in consideration of the Regents pulling down the one-story wooden structure facing on Henry Street and occupied by the Professors for lectures, etc., and replacing it with a two-story brick building, to reimburse them for the amount so expended in five yearly instalments, in addition to interest at the rate of five per cent. on the amount of principal remaining unpaid until the entire amount is settled—said annual payments to be a first lien on the payments for instruction to the Faculty until the entire amount be repaid.

[Aug. 2.] The Faculty agreed to add $1,000 to their original subscription of $5,000, contingent on the plans being approved by them. A mortgage of $12,500 was authorized, to be applied to the necessary rebuilding and repairs before mentioned, and contracts for the work were authorized to be made.

[Oct. 3.] Plans were presented with estimate of cost of new structure. A communication was received from the Building Committee, consisting of Drs. G. W. Plympton, J. W. Hyde and J. S. Wight; and from Finance Committee, Drs. G. G. Hopkins, E. S. Bunker and J. A. McCorkle, recommending an additional expenditure beyond what was originally suggested, and requesting the Board of Regents to aid them to raise the means. A Committee of five from the Board was appointed to raise the money required.

[Oct. 17.] It was reported that $4,650 had been raised.

[Dec. 5.] A communication was received from the Alumni and undergraduates, offering to give a musical entertainment to provide means with which to purchase seats for the new amphitheatre; the offer was accepted. This concert was held in the First Baptist Church, on March 6, 1882, and the Regents adjourned their meeting in order to attend it.

1882.

[Jan. 25.] The Pathological Laboratory was opened.

[April 3.] A communication was received from the Council and Faculty in reference to the "University of Brooklyn." It was referred to a Committee. The Society of Trained Nurses in Brooklyn expressed, through Dr. Mitchell, a wish to undertake the charge of nurses in the institution, and on April 2, the Committee on Nurses, Messrs. Praeger, Dudley and Keutgen, reported in favor thereof.

The plan was approved on June 5.

1883.

Sanitary Science was added to the curriculum this year and attached to the Chair of Physiology.

PRESIDENTS OF THE BOARD OF REGENTS.

John J. Van Nostrand, 1866 74.
Thomas H. Rodman, 1875 92.
Thomas S. Moore, 1892–99.
Henry W. Maxwell, 1899.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES ESTABLISHED.

[Mar. 20.] The nurses of the Society of Trained Nurses were withdrawn, and the upper story and lower rooms of the house S.E. corner of Henry and Pacific Streets were hired for a Nurses' Home, to be opened May 1, and a Committee was instructed to take the necessary steps to establish a training school for nurses. At this meeting the Board of Regents resolved to give $100 to the student who should pass the best examination.

[June 4.] The Regents contributed $250 to the Alumni Association to pay for the dinners of the graduating class, at the Annual Dinner of the Association.

[May 5.] A subscription was made for the Alumni Association this year for the same purpose as in 1883.

[Nov. 24.] The Regents authorized the construction of a new building to be occupied by the Lying-in Department of the Hospital, and for a Nurses' Home, at a cost of $14,000.

1885.

[Oct. 5.] Dr. John T. Conkling and Dr. Alexander Hutchins were appointed members of the Council. Dr. Jos. C. Hutchison was elected after the death of Dr. Dudley.

1886.

[May 17.] $200 was voted to the Alumni Association for the Annual Dinner.

DUDLEY MEDAL INSTITUTED.

[Dec. 6.] It was announced to the Board that Dr. William H. Dudley, whose death occurred on October 9, 1886, had provided for a medal in his will, in the following language:

"I give and bequeath to the Long Island College Hospital in the City of Brooklyn, such a sum as may be necessary, not exceeding one hundred dollars, to be applied to procure a die for a medal, and also the further sum of five hundred dollars to be securely invested, and the interest thereof applied to the purchase of such medal, to be annually awarded to the member of the graduating class of the Collegiate Department of said Hospital, who shall write the best clinical medical report or thesis upon a case in the Hospital Medical Ward, decision to be made by the Council and Faculty."

1887.

[Jan. 3.] The Executive Committee, in conjunction with Council and Hospital Faculty, were directed to confer and perfect a plan for an Out-Door Obstetric Service, and report to the Board.

[Mar. 7.] The Regents contributed $200 toward the Alumni Dinner. Announcement was made that Dr. Joseph C. Hutchison, having been elected Chairman of the Collegiate Committee, had thereby become President of the Collegiate Department. Dr. Hutchison died on July 17, 1887.

ALUMNI REPRESENTATION IN THE BOARD OF REGENTS.

A Committee of the Alumni Association, consisting of Drs. G. R. Butler and J. H. Raymond, presented to the Board a minute from the Association, suggesting the propriety of giving the Alumni a voice in the selection of a representative in the Board of Regents.

[Dec. 23.] A memorial meeting was held at the College, commemorating the thirty years' history of the Long Island College Hospital.

DUDLEY MEMORIAL MEDAL.

[Feb. 6.] Regent Henry W. Maxwell announced to the Board that it was his intention, in loving remembrance of the late Dr. William H. Dudley, to give annually a medal to be known as "The Dudley Memorial Medal," to be awarded to the student who shall write the best clinical report or thesis upon a case in the Surgical Ward of the Long Island College Hospital. The President and Prof. McCorkle were authorized to issue certificates to members of the graduating classs who have pursued the study of physical diagnosis and are entitled thereto.

[Nov. 5.] It was announced at a meeting of the Regents that the late Mrs. James Humphrey had left a legacy of $10,000 to the institution.

[Dec. 3.] The Committee of the Board of Regents appointed to consider the request of the Alumni Association presented March 7, 1887, to have a voice in the selection of, and a representation in, the Board of Regents, made the following report which was adopted:

"Under the act incorporating the College, and the acts amendatory thereof, members of the Board of Regents are elected from the incorporators, and any member of the Alumni Association who is an incorporator is eligible to membership in the Board of Regents. If the name of any incorporator is submitted to the Board of Regents by the Alumni Association, it would doubtless receive respectful consideration.

"Under existing laws it is impossible to elect a member of the Board of Regents in any other way."

1889.

[Feb. 4.] A portrait of the late Dr. William H. Dudley, which had been ordered by the Board of Regents from Fredericks & Co., of

New York, was exhibited to that body. It was later hung in the College lecture room between the portraits of Prof. Samuel G. Armor and Corydon L. Ford.

[May 6.] Dr. George W. Brush, corresponding secretary of the Alumni Association, informed the Regents that Dr. Z. T. Emery had been unanimously chosen to represent the Association in the Board of Regents; and Mr. F. W. Keutgen gave notice that he should move the nomination of Dr. Emery as an incorporator at the next meeting.

[June 3.] Dr. Emery was elected an incorporator and a member of the Board of Regents in the class of 1885.

[June 17.] A legacy of $3,000 was announced as having been left by the late John James Van Nostrand.

1890.

[Jan. 6.] The Department of Orthopedic Surgery in the Dispensary was re-established.

[May 5.] Dr. George W. Brush, of the class of 1876, was elected an incorporator.

[Aug. 25] Improvements were authorized, consisting of a new story on the Amity Street wing and the portion of the building between the wing and the centre building, at a cost not exceeding $25,000, and arrangements were made looking to the use of the lecture room of the Hoagland Laboratory by the College until the improvements were completed.

1891.

[Jan. 5.] The minutes of the Regents record the fact that Dr. J. M. Van Cott, Jr., had been sent by the Board to Berlin to obtain a supply of tuberculin from Dr. Koch for the use of the Hospital.

[Feb. 2.] It was determined that after the close of the collegiate year of 1891, three courses of lectures in different years be required for graduation. The repairs to the College building required the hiring of a store on Atlantic Avenue to be used as a chemical laboratory for the instruction of the medical class. Dr. A. T. Bristow presented a refrigerator for the dissecting room.

[Mar. 2.] Dr. J. M. Van Cott, Jr., of the class of 1885, who had recently returned from Berlin, Germany, whither he had been sent by the Regents to obtain a supply of tuberculin from Dr. Koch, made to the Board a report of his mission.

[May 4.] The thanks of the Regents were tendered to Mr. H. D. Polhemus, a Regent, for his gift of $5,000 to the institution.

[June 1.] Bequests of $5,000 by the late R. P. Buck and John Ruszits were announced.

[July 20.] Authority was given to construct a vault in the yard of the Hospital to receive two new steam boilers, the purchase of which was authorized, also an engine and laundry; to construct a lavatory building for the Nurses' and Female wings, and to put fire escapes on the building, the whole cost not to exceed $35,000.

[Mar. 7.] The Department of Electro-Therapeutics in the Department of Diseases of Women was established in the Dispensary.

[Aug. 25.] The death of Mr. Thomas H. Rodman, President of the Board of Regents, occurred. He had been a member of the Board since 1858, and President since April 5, 1875.

[Oct. 3.] The Regents received a communication from Rev. Charles L. Mitchell, of Winchester, Mass., stating that he desired to establish a prize in connection with the College Department in memory of his father, the late Dr. Chauncey L. Mitchell; for this purpose he sent to the Board a $1,000 bond; the interest on which is to be applied to the purchase of books or instruments; the award to be made to the students of the college under regulations to be made by the College Faculty.

The Faculty decided to award it to the member of the graduating class who in their judgment is the best qualified in all departments of medicine. Announcement was made of the approach to completion of the improvements in the buildings.

THOMAS S. MOORE ELECTED PRESIDENT.

[Nov. 7.] Mr. Thomas S. Moore was elected President of the Board of Regents. Mr. Moore died on April 1, 1899.

1893.

[Feb. 6.] The By-Laws of the institution were amended in important particulars.

1894.

[April 2.] William W. Browning, M.D., Professor of Anatomy, sent the Board of Regents a check for $1,041.68—$1,000 of which was to establish a fund, the interest of which was to be given as a prize, to be known as the Corydon L. Ford prize, to the student who performs the best work in the dissecting room during his academic career.

1895.

[Feb. 14.] The death of Mr. Henry D. Polhemus occurred. He had been a member of the Board of Regents since March 21, 1872.

1897.

[Jan. 4.] The Board of Regents resolved to give to each member of the House Staff who passes creditably through the various grades of the service to the satisfaction of the Board, a diploma signed by the members of the Hospital Faculty and the President and Secretary of the Board of Regents under the seal of the Corporation.

[May 3.] The following were appointed members of the Council: Arthur R. Payne, M.D., Joseph H. Hunt, M.D., Walter B. Chase, M.D., and James W. Fleming, M.D. (L. I. C. H., '80). Dr. Fleming is the only Alumnus of the institution who ever served on the Council.

[June.] A fair was held in the Hospital for the benefit of the institution, which netted $3,175.55.

[Aug. 27.] Hon. William J. Osborne died on this day. He had been a member of the Board of Regents since 1864, and Secretary from 1864 to 1893, when he declined a re-election.

[Sept. 20.] Communication was received from Mr. William B. Davenport, President of the Polhemus Memorial Clinic, stating that the Board of Regents is invited to occupy the College Department of the Polhemus Memorial Clinic as soon as the same is completed, for the purposes of the College. The Board unanimously resolved to accept the generous offer.

[Oct. 3.] The four-years graded course was inaugurated.

GUILD OF THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

This organization owes its existence to Mrs. Frank E. West who, as a result of personal visitation to the wards of the Hospital, saw that much might be done to provide garments and other necessary articles for the sick children undergoing treatment there, many of whom came from homes of poverty, and were consequently insufficiently clothed.

[Nov. 30.] With this end in view, Mrs. West prepared a circular letter to the Regents and physicians connected with the institution and to their wives, asking them to meet in the Hoagland Laboratory on the evening of November 30. Thirty-two responded to this appeal. Mr. Thomas S. Moore, President of the Board of Regents, was the Chairman of the meeting, and its objects were explained by Dr. Frank E. West (L. I. C. H., '76). Drs. John A. McCorkle (L. I. C. H., '73) and Charles Jewett spoke warmly in support of the work. The By-Laws, which had been prepared by Dr. West, were adopted. These state that the object of the Guild is to provide infants' and children's underclothing, as well as such garments as may be necessary for the comfort of the sick poor in the Hospital. The By-Laws also provide that the membership shall consist of Active Members who contribute their services to the work of the Guild, and Sustaining Members, who contribute money or goods.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. William J. Osborne; Treasurer, Mrs. Frank E. West; Secretary, Mrs. Jerome B. Thomas.

1898.

[Jan. 3.] Contracts for a new building containing lavatories in the north-east corner of the court of the hospital were submitted to the Regents; for the cost of this building, the net proceeds of the fair held in June, 1897, were appropriated, and the balance was contributed by the Regents.

[Jan. 5.] The Polhemus Memorial Clinic was first occupied by the Faculty of the College. The opening lecture was given by Professor Alex. J. C. Skene, President of the College Department.

[January.] The Report of the Guild shows an active membership of 54 ladies. 37 Sustaining Members contributed $455.00.

[Mar. 7.] The Regents provided for the appointment of a Dispensary Committee, consisting of three members of the Board of Regents, two of the College Faculty and two of the Hospital Faculty, each body to select its own representatives, who should frame rules governing the Dispensary, and have general supervision of the same. Messrs. C. W. Ide, Samuel Rowland and Z. T. Emery, M.D. (L. I. C. H., '74), of the Board of Regents; Professors J. S. Wight (L. I. C. H., '64) and Jewett, of the College Faculty; and Drs. F. H. Colton (L. I. C. H., '64) and Ernest Palmer, of the Hospital Faculty, constituted this Committee.

[April 4.] The Regents resolved to close the rooms used in the Hospital as a Dispensary and move the Dispensary to the Polhemus Memorial Clinic. Communication was made to the Regents by Grant Post, G. A. R., looking to the presentation by the Post of a flag to the institution. The death of Dr. Cornelius N. Hoagland occurred on this date. He had been a member of the Board of Regents since May 3, 1886.

[June 6]. The Board of Regents adopted the following:

"The Regents of the Long Island College Hospital tender to Mrs. Caroline H. Polhemus their heartfelt thanks for the noble work she has done in establishing and endowing the Polhemus Memorial Clinic, and devoting it to the use of the Long Island College Hospital for the relief of the suffering and the advancement of medical science. It is particularly gratifying to the Regents to know that this good work will for all time perpetuate the memory and honor the name of the late Henry D. Polhemus, who was for many years a Regent of this institution, and who rendered it great service, and acted toward it with princely liberality."

WOUNDED SOLDIERS IN THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

In the spring of 1898, the authorities of the Long Island College Hospital received a communication from the War Department asking what facilities, if any, could be furnished for the care of sick and wounded soldiers. Part of the Hospital was at once placed at the disposal of the Department, and the rooms in the Old College building were prepared for the reception of such patients.

On the morning of Sunday, July 17th, the first detachment of invalid troops arrived in Brooklyn on the U. S. Hospital Ship Olivette, from Cuba. Arrangements were at once made for the removal of these men and a line of ambulances, carriages and patrol wagons removed the sick and wounded, to the number of about 120, to the different hospitals. The Long Island College Hospital received 50 of these cases, 37 of which were gunshot wounds, 1 sprain of wrist, 1 varicose veins and 11 medical cases, malarial fever, etc. Nearly every surgical case was complicated by frequent attacks of malarial fever, but in spite of severe injuries and fever, the Hospital's records show but one death among these cases.

On July 27, the U. S. Hospital Ship Relief arrived from Cuba with a small detachment of troops, 19 of whom were admitted to the Long Island College Hospital; 18 of these were wounded and 1 was a case of dysentery. No fatalities occurred amongst these patients.

On August 20, the U. S. Hospital Ship Relief arrived in Brooklyn once more and 73 patients were sent to the Long Island College Hospital. Of these only 4 were surgical cases, 69 being cases of fever, typhoid and malarial.

On September 1, the first cases transferred from the General Hospital at Camp Wikoff arrived here, and of these the Long Island College Hospital received 56, all cases of typhoid and malarial fever.

Seven cases of typhoid were received from the U. S. Transport Chester from Porto Rico on September 6th, and on September 8th 26 cases of fever from Camp Wikoff and Chickamauga. Other arrivals from Camp Wikoff to the number of 112 were received in the Long Island College Hospital on September 16th and 27th and October 3d; only 6 of these cases were surgical and but 1 was wounded.

The Hospital Ship Missouri arrived October 29th from Porto Rico with a detachment of men suffering from fevers and a few slight surgical cases; 49 of these were sent to the Long Island College Hospital. With the exception of 4 members of the 1st U. S. Volunteer Engineers and a few members of local regiments who were landed from the U. S. Transport Minnewaska, these were the last soldiers of the Spanish War to reach the Long Island College Hospital.

In all, 421 men were regularly admitted at the request of the officers of the U. S. War Department, and in addition a number of cases of stragglers and men from the local regiments. The total number of deaths was 12, a remarkably low rate when the grave nature of many of the cases is considered. The first soldier of this war entered the Hospital July 17, 1898, and the last was discharged March 12, 1899.

It may be worthy of note, that the surgeons of the Army Hospital on Governor's Island availed themselves of the skill of the surgical staff of the Hospital, by turning over to them some of their serious operative cases, and that the U. S. Marine Hospital as well as the Army Hospital sent over cases to be diagnosed by the aid of the X-ray machine in the Polhemus Memorial Clinic.

[January.] The report of the Guild for 1898 states that there are on the roll 49 Active and 75 Sustaining Members. During the year there have been cut and made 1,621 pieces, of which 294 were sheets for the Men's, Women's and Maternity Wards; 84 sheets for the Children's Ward; and 10 surgeon's aprons. Besides these articles made by the Guild, there were purchased 650 surgeon's towels, 144 towels for the wards, 528 pillow slips, and 128 counterpanes.

The following are the officers for 1899: Mrs. Horace C. Hazen, President; Mrs. Charles M. Bull, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. Charles H. O'Connor, 2d Vice-President; Mrs. Jerome B. Thomas, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Joshua M. Van Cott, Jr., Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Crowell Hadden, Treasurer.

[Mar. 6.] The By-Laws of the Board of Regents were amended so as to provide for visiting committees of the Board, whose duty it should be to visit and thoroughly inspect the Hospital. The Alumni Association, through its Board of Managers, requested additional representation in the Board of Regents, and nominated as a member of the corporation, John Harrigan, M.D. (L. I. C. H., '74).

[April 1.] Mr. Thomas S. Moore, President of the Board of Regents, died.

[April 3.] Dr. John Harrigan was elected a member of the corporation and of the Board of Regents.

[April 10.] Mr. Henry W. Maxwell was elected President of the Board of Regents.

THE READING AND RECITATION TERM.

This term was established in 1872, as stated on page 42. Each Reading and Recitation Term began in the fall and continued until the Regular Term began, up to the time of the change of the beginning of the Regular Term in 1886 from midwinter to September; after which year the Reading Term followed the Regular Term. In 1897 the last Reading Term was held, the lengthening of the Regular Term and the adoption of the graded four-years course making this term unnecessary.

First Faculty of the Reading and Recitation Term.

Jarvis S. Wight, M.D., Professor of Materia Medica.
William Wallace, M.D., Lecturer on Elements of Practical Medicine.
Joseph H. Raymond, M.D., Lecturer on Physiology.
Edward S. Bunker, M.D., Lecturer on Elementary Obstetrics.
Lewis D. Mason, M.D., Lecturer on Minor Surgery.
John D. Rushmore, M.D., Lecturer on Elementary Surgery.
Lewis S. Pilcher, M.D., Lecturer on Anatomy.
Henry N. Read, M.D., Lecturer on Chemistry.
William H. Bates, M.D., Demonstrator of Anatomy.

The dates on which the Reading Terms began, and their duration after they began to follow the Regular Term, are given below:

1. October 7, 1872
2. October 1, 1873
3. October 1, 1874
4. October 1, 1875
5. October 4, 1876
6. October 4, 1877
7. October 1, 1878
8. October 2, 1879
9. October 4, 1880
10. September 28, 1881
11. September 27, 1882
12. September 19, 1883
13. September 17, 1884
14. September 23, 1885
15. March 7 to June 7, 1887
16. March 15 to June 15, 1888
17. March 14 to June 7, 1889
18. March 14 to June 6, 1890
19. March 13 to June 5, 1891
20. March 21 to June 10, 1892
21. March 20 to June 9, 1893
22. March 22 to June 8, 1894
23. March 28 to June 14, 1895
24. March 26 to June 12, 1896
25. April 1 to June 18, 1897

(The dates of the beginning of the Regular Terms, which mark the ending of the Reading Terms up to 1886, will be found at the head of the several classes among the Graduate Biographies.)

PRESIDENTS OF THE BOARD OF REGENTS.

SAMUEL SLOAN, 1858–1864 (excepting seven months, May 27–Dec. 28, 1861). Born Dec. 25, 1817, at Lisburn, near Belfast, Ireland, and came to the United States in infancy. Graduate of Columbia College Grammar School, 1830; Supervisor of Kings County, 1850–1; Senator, N. Y. State Legislature, 1858–9; President Hudson River Railroad, 1855–62; President Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R.R., 1867–99; Chairman Board of Managers of same, 1899; President, at various times, of the following railroads: Oswego & Syracuse; Syracuse, Binghamton & New York; Utica, Chenango & Susquehanna Valley; Fort Wayne & Jackson; Green Bay, Winona & St. Paul.

HENRY BOWMAN CROMWELL, May 27–Dec. 28, 1861. Born April 29, 1828, at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. Entered business life at the age of fifteen, with John Haigh & Co., importers, of New York, in 1843. In 1847 went abroad to buy for the house, and in 1851 settled in Heathersfield, England, as resident partner of the firm, for four years. About 1856 he purchased an interest in the Parker-Vane Steamship Company, soon acquiring a controlling interest and founding the Cromwell Line, and by 1861 was running six different lines along the coast of the United States. His vessels passed to the Government at the breaking out of the war and were added to the blockading fleets. He was foremost in adopting the screw propeller in steamship construction, and introduced, against much opposition, the receipt of freight on covered piers. Mr. Cromwell died April 2, 1864, aged thirty-six.

THEODORE POLHEMUS, JR., March 28–Dec. 5, 1864. Born Aug. 5, 1815, at Gowanus, Brooklyn (in the house that had for generations been the family homestead); died April 16, 1865. A descendant of Rev. Johannes Theodorus Polhemus, the first pastor of the First Church in Brooklyn, who came from Holland in 1653. Educated at Erasmus Hall School, Flatbush; and became partner in the firm of Fox & Polhemus, manufacturers and dealers in cotton duck; his brother, Henry Ditmas Polhemus, in whose memory the Polhemus Memorial Clinic was erected, was a member of this firm. An original stockholder in the Brooklyn Academy of Music and the Brooklyn Art Association; prominently identified with the Brooklyn "Sanitary Fair," of 1864.

JOSEPH RIPLEY, Dec. 5, 1864–April 30, 1866. Born Sept. 14, 1804, at Norwich, Conn.; died Dec. 31, 1876. A lineal descendant of William Bradford, second Governor of Plymouth Colony. Entered Yale College 1819, at the age of fourteen, and was graduated in 1823, the youngest man in his class. Entered business in New York.

JOHN JAMES VAN NOSTRAND, May 7, 1866–Oct. 22, 1874. Born Oct. 21, 1815, in New York City; died, Brooklyn, Jan. 7, 1889. Educated in New York City and Stamford, Conn. Began early in life a successful business career, a member of the firm of J. & J. Van Nostrand, wholesale grocers, New York.

THOMAS H. RODMAN, April 4, 1875–Aug. 25, 1892. Born 1822; died, Brooklyn, Aug. 26, 1892. Commissioner to locate Brooklyn Public Parks, 1857; Commissioner for laying out Prospect Park, 1860; Supervisor, Sixth Ward, Brooklyn; Alderman, 1873; District Attorney of Kings County, by appointment of Gov. Dix, 1874; Member of Brooklyn Board of Education.

THE HOAGLAND LABORATORY.

CORNELIUS NEVIUS HOAGLAND was born at Neshanic, Somerset County, N. J., Nov. 23, 1828, and died in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 25, 1898. His father, Andrew Hoagland, removed to Piqua, Miami County, O., in 1834, and later to West Charleston, in the same State. When seventeen years of age, Cornelius left the public school of the latter place, and began the study of medicine, receiving the degree of M.D. from the Medical Department of the Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O., in 1852. From 1854 to 1858, he was Auditor of Miami County. In 1861, he entered the United States service as 1st Lieut. of Co. H, 11th Ohio Volunteer Infantry. In the same year he became Surgeon of the 71st Ohio, and served in that capacity until the end of the war, being mustered out in 1866. He participated in the engagements of Pittsburg Landing, Atlanta, Franklin and Nashville, at the last of which he was wounded in the breast. In 1868, he came to Brooklyn and entered business life, retiring in 1876.

About the year 1886, Dr. Hoagland, himself an accomplished microscopist, became impressed with the work which was being done by scientists in the Department of Bacteriology, and on June 1st of that year he signed the contract for the purchase of the site on which now stands the Hoagland Laboratory. He felt that in this field lay an opportunity to benefit mankind to a greater extent than in any other department of science, and with this end in view he founded the Laboratory. While he thoroughly appreciated the other departments of medicine, yet bacteriology was in his opinion the one science from which the most good was to be expected, and the construction of the Laboratory was planned and its equipment ordered with this as the main end in view. The cost of the Laboratory was as follows: site, $24,000; building, $56,606.74; cabinet work and furniture, $6,675.19; apparatus, $4,090.17; library, $3,093.09; pavement, $1,064.65; in all, $95,529.84. For a considerable time after the completion of the building its current expenses were met by him as the necessities arose. This expenditure amounted to $10,765.06. This was doubtless done that he might know what amount was necessary to provide for its permanent maintenance. When this was ascertained he endowed it to the extent of $50,000, and just previous to his death he supplemented this original endowment by the addition of $24,000, making the whole benefaction aggregate $180,294.90.

That Dr. Hoagland had no narrow view of the work which the Laboratory might accomplish is shown by his statement in the articles of incorporation, that it is founded for "the promotion of medical science and the instruction of students in special branches thereof." This is further shown by the fact that he equipped to the fullest extent the Department of Histology and Pathology. Since the erection of the Laboratory, 82 students and physicians, many of the latter in the service of the United States Army and Navy, have been instructed in bacteriology, and 1,360 students in histology and pathology. These latter are now practising physicians in all parts of the world, and it is no exaggeration to say that ten thousand individuals are the recipients of better and more skilful treatment by reason of Dr. Hoagland's large-hearted and open-handed generosity.

CORNELIUS NEVIUS HOAGLAND, M.D.

Dr. Hoagland was also an expert photographer, and hundreds of negatives taken by him in all parts of the world are in the possession of his family. The picture of the Laboratory which illustrates this sketch is from a negative taken by him. He was especially skilled in photo-micrography. In the organization of the Laboratory he became the director of this department, and there are now in the possession of the trustees a large number of negatives made by him, of which he made lantern-slides for the illustration of lectures by the Laboratory Staff, and for use in popular lectures both in Brooklyn and elsewhere.

Dr. Hoagland was a Fellow of the Royal Microscopical Society of London, and Life Member of the American Geographical Society of New York, the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society and the Long Island Historical Society. He was a regent of the Long Island College Hospital; a member of the Medical Society of the County of Kings; of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion; and a trustee of the following institutions, namely: Syracuse University, Antioch College, Adelphi College, the People's Trust Company, and the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, N. Y. He was also a member of the Hamilton and Oxford clubs.

The completion of the Laboratory was announced on October 1, 1888; its formal opening, however, not taking place until December 15, on which occasion Prof. H. Newell Martin, of Johns Hopkins University, delivered an address, and the building was subsequently thrown open to inspection. On November 17, Director Sternberg lectured to the medical profession on Bacteria, following this on Feb. 17, 1889, with a lecture on the Bacillus of Tuberculosis. In 1893, he gave a course of lectures to which the public were invited, as follows:

January 16. Bacteria in General: in Air, Water, and Soil.
January 23. The Micrococcus of Pneumonia; the Bacillus of Tuberculosis; the Bacillus of Typhoid Fever; the Spirillum of Relapsing Fever.

January 30. The Micrococcus of Erysipelas; the Bacillus of Diphtheria; the Spirillum of Asiatic Cholera.

On March 13, 1889, Dr. Daniel Ayres presented to the Laboratory $10,000, which was added to the endowment fund. On May 16, of the same year, he gave five shares of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company, par value $100, the dividend on which he desired to have devoted to the purchase of a medal to be awarded as a token of merit for original work in biological research.

On Dec. 31, 1897, Mr. Otto Huber presented to the Laboratory the sum of $12,000.

On May 8, 1899, an unknown donor presented to the Laboratory, through Mr. Alvan R. Johnson, a prominent Brooklyn lawyer, the sum of $25,000 to endow a fellowship to be known as the "Van Cott Fellowship," in honor of Dr. Joshua M. Van Cott, Jr., the Professor of Pathology and Bacteriology. Dr. Van Cott nominated Dr. Archibald Murray as the Fellow for the current year.

The members of the Board of Trustees of the Laboratory since its foundation are the following:

Cornelius Nevius Hoagland, M.D., President, 1887-98.

Rev. Charles Henry Hall, D.D., LL.D., 1887-95. Died Sept. 12, 1895.

Joseph Howard Raymond, M.D., Sec. & Treas., 1887.

Joshua Marsden Van Cott, LL.D., 1887-96. Died Aug. 13, 1896.

Charles E. West, LL.D., 1887.

Charles O. Gates, 1896. President, 1899.

Otto Huber, 1899.

STAFF OF THE LABORATORY.

George M. Sternberg, M.D., General Director and Director of Bacteriology, 1888-89; General Director, 1888-93; Director of Bacteriology, 1892.

George Theophilus Kemp, Ph.D., M.D., Associate Director of Bacteriology and Physiology, and Librarian, 1888-93.

Frank Ferguson, M.D., Director of Bacteriology and Pathology, 1888-91.

Joshua Marsden Van Cott, Jr., M.D., Associate Director of Histology and Pathology, 1888-91; Director, 1891.

Cornelius Nevius Hoagland, M.D., Director of Photo-micrography, 1888-98. Died April 25, 1898.

Joseph Howard Raymond, M.D., Director of Physiology, 1888.

William McMurtrie, Ph.D., Director Dept. of Chemistry, 1888.

B. Meade Bolton, M.D., Director of Bacteriology, 1889-92.

Ezra H. Wilson, M.D., Associate Director of Bacteriology, 1892-93; Director of Bacteriology, 1893.

Smith Ely Jelliffe, M.D., Librarian, 1893-96.

R. B. F. Randolph, Librarian, 1896; Assistant in Bacteriology, 1896.

Assistants.

Richard Slee, M.D., Physiology.

Jerome B. Thomas, Jr., M.D., Bacteriology.

Wilbur H. Seymour, M.D., Histology and Pathology.

J. J. O'Reilly, M.D., Histology and Pathology.

Fellowships.

Archibald Murray, M.D., in Pathology, 1897; Van Cott Fellowship, 1899.

EQUIPMENT OF THE HOAGLAND LABORATORY.

Department of Bacteriology.

The equipment of the Department of Bacteriology has been very complete from the opening of the Laboratory, and has been added to as occasion required until, at the present time, it is most complete, especially for research work. Microscopes, fitted with immersion lenses, microtomes, the latest form of electrically controlled incubators, both for high and low temperatures, an extensive outfit of glassware and optical apparatus, instruments of precision for preparing culture media, counting colonies, and other bacterial work. A collection of cultures of identified species of bacteria which is unequalled in the country, comprising one hundred different species, is kept in order for original or comparative work. An extensive photo-micrographic outfit is an adjunct to the Department, furnished with an arc light and special camera and stand for photographing bacteria under high power. The dark room and the large photograph room with its fine skylight, are models of their kind.

A fine collection of photo-micrographic negatives is preserved as a matter of record and for the making of lantern slides.

Library.

At present the library contains about 1,300 volumes, consisting of text-books, works of reference and bound journals, all relating to the work for which the Laboratory is equipped. This is essentially a working library, and is intended for the use of the Staff of the Laboratory. A great deal of trouble and expense has been incurred in completing the files of some of the European journals. There are fifty-three foreign and three domestic journals on file. The value of this library can only be appreciated by laboratory workers.

Department of Histology and Pathology.

This Department is fully equipped for teaching in these branches, and is provided with microscopes, microtomes, lantern slides, etc. The amount of normal and pathological material received makes ample provision for an extended and thorough course in both these branches, and these courses are included in the requirements for graduation.

Department of Physiology.

This Department has been equipped both for teaching purposes and for research work in physiology. The equipment includes apparatus for demonstrations of respiration and circulation, and for research work on the blood and digestion.

The illustrations of the Laboratory are from photographs by Charles E. Bolles, of Brooklyn.

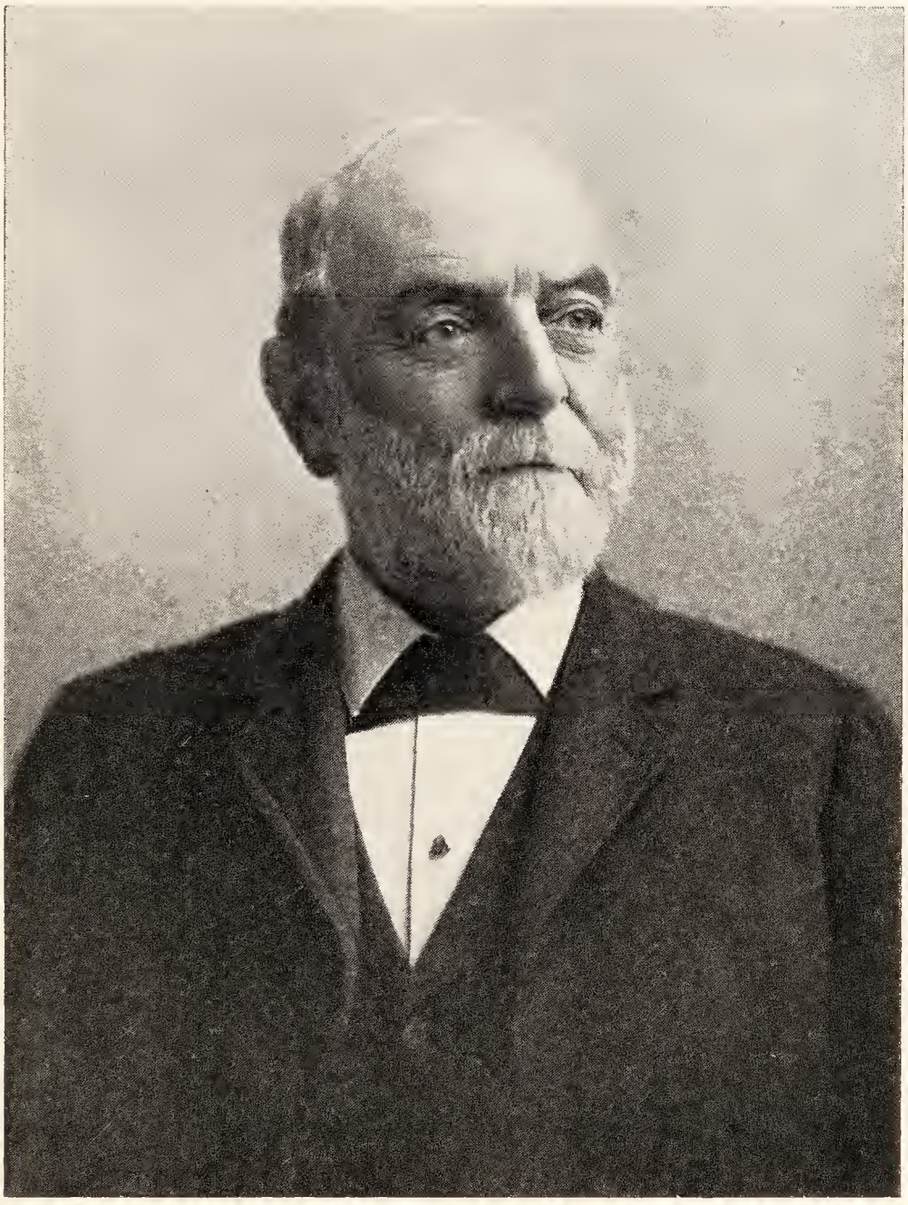

THE POLHEMUS MEMORIAL CLINIC.

HENRY DITMAS POLHEMUS was born on Nov. 2, 1828, at the Polhemus Homestead, on Gowanus Lane (now Fifth Avenue and Carroll Street) in Brooklyn, which had been the home of his family for four generations. He died Feb. 14, 1895, being the last male descendant of Rev. Johannes Theodorus Polhemus, who came from Holland in 1653, to become the first pastor of the First Dutch Church in this vicinity.

His brother, Theodore Polhemus, Jr., was President of the Board of Regents of the Long Island College Hospital from March 28th to December 5, 1864. Henry D. Polhemus was one of the Regents from 1872 to the time of his death, and was one of the most liberal benefactors of the institution.

Mr. Polhemus was actively engaged for many years in business as a member of the firm of Fox & Polhemus, in Beaver Street, New York City, who were engaged in the business of manufacturing ducking. In the midst of a busy life he found time to devote a considerable period of time to the service of social and charitable institutions. He was a director in the Long Island Bank, the Nassau Fire Insurance Company, the American District Telegraph Company, the Brooklyn Gas Light Company, the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company, the Morris & Essex Railroad Company, the Brooklyn Academy of Music, the Eye and Ear Hospital, and the Long Island Historical Society. He was a member of the Brooklyn Club, the St. Nicholas Society of Nassau Island and the Cuttyhunk Fishing Club, and was the President of each at the time of his death. He was also a member of the New York Club, the Larchmont Yacht Club, the Montauk, the Germania, the Hamilton, the Riding and Driving and the Robins Island clubs, of which last he was Vice-President.

Soon after his death his widow, Mrs. Caroline Herriman Polhemus, desiring to perpetuate his memory by some suitable memorial, decided to erect a building in which a clinic might be maintained for the aid of the worthy poor of the water-front of Brooklyn, and where the students of the medical profession could be more perfectly educated; and, on account of her husband's long connection with the Long Island College Hospital, and his interest therein, she decided to locate this building in the immediate vicinity of that Hospital. Early in the summer of 1895, ground was secured at the southwest corner of Henry and Amity Streets and tentative plans indicating the general purposes sought to be accomplished in the erection of the building were prepared and submitted to six leading American architects, who were invited to submit plans in competition. The plan submitted by Mr. Marshall L. Emery, of New York, was approved by a committee consisting of officers and professors of the Long Island College Hospital as the most satisfactory, and after the same had been carefully elaborated the erection of the Polhemus Memorial Clinic was commenced in the spring of 1896, and it was completed and occupied in December, 1897.

The Polhemus Memorial Clinic was organized under the laws of the State of New York, with the approval of the State Board of Charities, April 14, 1897; and the title of the building, together with the fund for its endowment, which was also contributed by Mrs. Polhemus, is held by this corporation. Its present Board of Trustees is William B. Davenport (President), Edgar M. Cullen, Willard Bartlett, George B. Abbott, Henry W. Maxwell (Treasurer), and Joseph H. Raymond (Secretary). The Superintendent in charge of the building is Mr. J. G. Ould.

DESCRIPTION OF THE POLHEMUS MEMORIAL CLINIC.

The design of the exterior, in French Renaissance, is intended to express as clearly as possible an academic building, with well-defined and studied characteristics grouped together to produce well-balanced and agreeably proportioned façades. The two lower stories, entirely of Indiana limestone, form a base for the work above. The next five stories are of limestone and a red-brown brick, crowned with the main cornice of stone and copper, forming a middle section, with the eighth story above as an attic, and the general scheme being a horizontal division in three parts. A vertical division into three parts of the front is effected by the arrangement of pilasters and breaks corresponding to the room divisions inside. So that the important element of design, viz., the vertical and horizontal triple division, is obtained. In plan, the building is a rectangle with large re-entrant bays or courts for light and air on the sides opposite the street fronts.

The building extends about thirty feet below the sidewalk curb, and about 120 feet above, or a total height of 150 feet, with the first-story floor about thirty-six feet above mean high tide. The nature of the soil upon which the building stands was shown by a series of test borings from fifty to seventy feet deep to be of a very uniform character, consisting of coarse, sharp sand, with a small percentage of boulders from the size of pebbles up to eight or ten inches in diameter, and a trace here and there of loamy clay. While this soil would probably carry from eight to twelve tons per square foot, the foundations have been proportioned to impose a load of but four tons, giving a wide margin of safety. Moreover, the soil being sandy does not tend to collect or hold moisture, but allows the water to descend readily to the water level, thereby assuring to the building a dry underground basement or cellar. As a matter of precaution, however, and as a protection against surface water, all the walls and floors below grade are thoroughly asphalted. The foundations are formed of beds of concrete two feet thick and of varying sizes up to thirteen feet square, these in turn support a system of " grillage " footings formed of two tiers of steel beams from twelve to twenty-four inches deep, placed at right angles to each other and entirely covering the concrete. There are also in the foundation four steel cantilever girders, one pair being six feet high. Upon this foundation rests a riveted steel skeleton supporting all the floors, and the exterior walls above the third-story floor-line.

The lowest floor of the building, two stories below the curb line, is occupied by two seven-foot ventilating fans and an engine for operating them; also the main heating stacks, fresh-air room, air-filters, and part of the steam apparatus.

The basement, or first story below ground, is mainly occupied by machinery and apparatus, the three electric generators and their engines, two compound elevator pumps, elevator tanks, refrigerating, ventilating, and heating apparatus.

The students' lavatory and toilet-rooms, and a surgical workshop, occupy the Henry Street front of the basement, and a drug store-room and patients' toilet-room the opposite side. There are also in the basement, adjacent to the refrigerating-apparatus room, a preparation-room and storage-room for anatomical material.

The first two stories above the sidewalk are devoted entirely to the dispensary or out-patients' department, and are practically the same in plan, consisting of a large central waiting-room surrounded by smaller consulting or examination rooms.

The main entrance for patients is on Amity Street, through a large arched portico, leading to a vestibule and lobby. On each side of the lobby are placed alcoves for the attendants who receive and direct patients to their proper places. Opposite this main entrance across the waiting-room is the Superintendent's office, adjoining which is the dispensing drug-room. Around the waiting-room and facing the two street sides of the building are arranged consultation-rooms, as follows: Eye, general room and dark room; Orthopedic, two rooms (with stair to workshop in basement); Surgical, two rooms; Medical, two rooms.

The waiting-room on the second story is connected with that on the first story by a broad stairway. Around the second-story waiting-room are arranged consultation-rooms, as follows: Diseases of Throat and Nose, two rooms; Diseases of Women, three rooms; Electro-therapeutic treatment, one room; Nervous Diseases, one room, with dark room; Diseases of Children, two rooms; Diseases of Chest, two rooms; Skin Diseases, two rooms; Dentist, one room.

The finish of all the rooms on both of these stories is entirely free from all unnecessary angles, broken surfaces, relief decoration, or other features tending to collect dust or obstruct cleaning. On the contrary, every facility has been provided for a complete and thorough cleaning. The amount of woodwork has been reduced to a minimum, and entirely eliminated where possible. Where the use of wood has been necessary, it has been used in perfectly plain surfaces; thus the door and window casings are plain oak bands with rounded corners. The doors themselves are veneered both sides with perfectly plain oak without the use of any mouldings whatever. All the floors of these two stories are laid with white vitrified tile. The walls are wainscoted with white glazed tile five feet high, finishing with round corners at the floor and all other angles. The angles and corners of plaster work are also rounded in all cases. All the consultation-rooms are provided with wash-basins or sinks, gas and electric light, electric plugs for heat or power, and special fixtures where necessary.

Above the two lower stories, and occupying the remaining six floors of the building are the various rooms of the College Department. These are reached by a large main stair from the College entrance on Henry Street.

The Henry Street entrance, which is entirely for the use of students, leads into a large staircase hall or lobby on the first floor; from this hall stairs lead down to basement lavatories and up to the top story, and a large passenger elevator runs from the first to the eighth floor. The floors of this stair-case hall are finished with marble mosaic pavement on all stories. The walls are wainscoted with marble, finishing with a decorated bronze cap. The marble mosaic floors continue to the top story, and the wainscoting extends to the third story in marble, and is continued thence to the top floor with white glazed tile.

The third story (first story above dispensary) is occupied by the Secretary's office and the library on the front or Henry street side of the building. The Secretary's office is a large room finished with a parquetry oak floor, and a high-paneled wainscot, heavy doors, door and window casings, and panelled ceiling of mahogany. The Clerk's room serves as a local telephone exchange, having connection with the public wires and with a system of intercommunicating wires extending to various stations throughout the building. The library is a large room occupying the corner of Henry and Amity streets; it is finished in oak, with parquetry floor, paneled wainscot, ceiling, doors, and bookcases. The center section of this story is taken up by the locker-room, where there is an individual locker for each student.

On the rear or west side of the building is a clinical preparation-room opening into the pit of the clinical lecture-room. Adjoining and connecting with the preparation-room is a lecturer's retiring-room, reached by a private passage or corridor from the main hall in front. A rear stair connects the patients' preparation-room with the waiting-rooms below, so that patients may be brought up from the lower stories into the clinical preparation-room and thence into the clinical lecture-room.

This lecture-room occupies the central section of the building, extending from the Amity Street front to the opposite side wall, and from the third to the fifth floors. The seats are arranged on a semicircular plan with a rise of sixteen inches from tier to tier, or to a total height of eighteen feet from the floor of pit to floor of top tier; the students entering from the fourth-floor level on the Henry Street side, and the lecturer and clinical patients from the rear at the third-story level. The stepped tiers for seats are formed on a steel structural skeleton and finished with concrete. The seats themselves are of iron, secured to brackets fastened to the steel structure, so that the bottoms, backs, and writing tablets form the only woodwork in the room, aside from doors and windows. The lecture-room measures forty-five feet long, fifty-five feet wide, and an average of twenty-eight feet high, and is lighted by large windows on both sides. It has a blackboard and screen for stereopticon projection on the back wall of the pit.

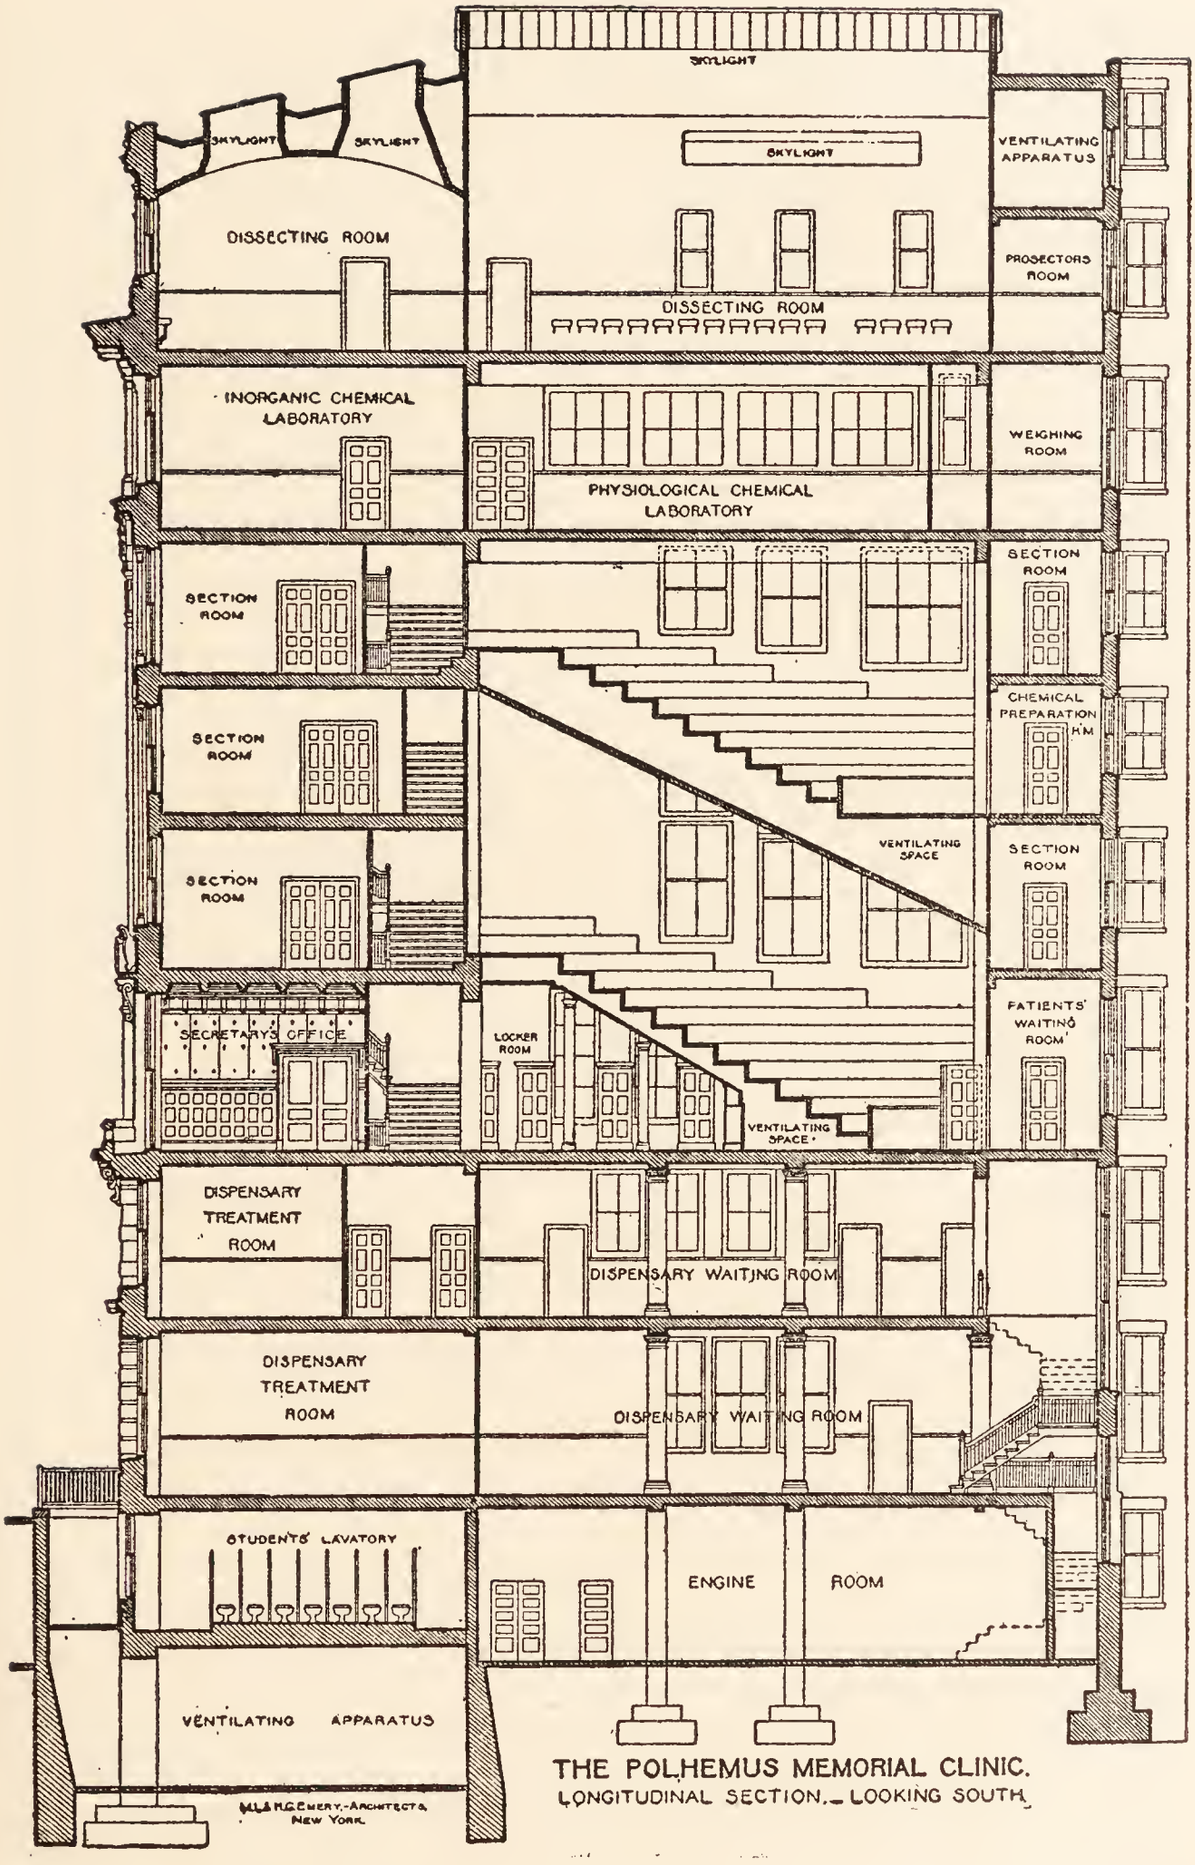

The fourth floor provides three section or class-rooms on the Henry Street side, and two section or apparatus-rooms on the rear or opposite side. The lecture-room fills in the central portion.

On the fifth story are four rooms for obstetric manikin instruction on the Henry street or front portion, the seats being on raised tiers similar to those in the lecture-rooms; the rear portion is occupied by a chemical apparatus and store-room, and a chemical preparation-room. A feature of the chemical preparation and lecture-room is a movable table, arranged to run on a track from its position in the preparation-room to its position in the lecture-room, gas, water, and electric connections being provided in both places, so that connections may be had in either position, the object being to enable apparatus and experiments to be set up on the table in the preparation-room while the lecture-room is being used for another lecture. The chemical preparation-room and store-room are provided with cases, sinks, and all necessary appurtenances. Both the lecture-rooms are entirely free from columns, being supported by heavy girders spanning the whole distance, end to end.

LONGITUDINAL SECTION.—LOOKING SOUTH.

The sixth story is occupied as the fourth, with section or class-rooms on the Henry Street side and section or apparatus-rooms in the rear, the chemical lecture-room taking up the central portion.

The seventh story is devoted entirely to chemistry, there being two large laboratories, with accommodations for 116 students, working simultaneously, at tables fully equipped with all necessaries. There are also on this floor a large recitation-room, two large chemical store and preparation rooms, and a weighing-room. All the tables in laboratories, store-rooms, and weighing-rooms have stone tops, and the two laboratories have each a large hood with ventilating-flue extending to roof. Gas, water, and electric connections are provided at the tables for each student, and a large drying-oven and steam connection for general use.

The eighth story is entirely utilized for the anatomical division, there being two large dissecting-rooms lighted by skylights, a Prosector's room, Demonstrator's room and bone library, there being accommodations for tables and all necessary equipment to make the department complete in all respects.

The construction of the building throughout is of the most substantial and enduring type, and thoroughly fireproof. As has been already noted, woodwork has only been used where necessary and eliminated wherever possible. The stairways are of iron and stone. The floors, with the exception of the library and Secretary's office, are of tile, mosaic, or concrete, and the partitions of iron filled in solid with plaster, and finished with tile or Keen's cement. The roof is built of concrete and paved with brick in Portland cement.

The lighting of the building has from the first been a prime consideration. The windows are all unusually large, and the arrangement of rooms is such that all have one window or more opening on external air except, of course, the " dark rooms " in the dispensary. The large lecture-rooms are especially well lighted, as are also the laboratories and dissecting-rooms.

To provide an adequate and efficient heating system, as perfect in design and construction as possible, required an expenditure of nearly $50,000. The problem required much study, as the arrangement of rooms on the various floors being irregular, both as to location and size, rendered it a matter of much difficulty to carry the necessary flues and ducts from the source of fresh-air supply to the rooms and again from the rooms to the foul-air exhaust shafts.

The system adopted for the work comprises two distinct parts, the ventilating and the heating. The former is accomplished by means of two seven-foot fans or blowers in the basement, to force the air through ducts and flues into the rooms, and two similar fans located in roof-houses, at the termination of the foul-air shafts, to exhaust the foul air from the rooms through another system of ducts and flues. All these ducts and flues are provided with valves, so that the supply to any room or set of rooms may be accurately adjusted. The air-supply is taken from the Henry Street front of the building and filtered before it enters the fans. After leaving the fans it passes over large heating stacks, and is raised in temperature so that it enters at about 65 degrees to 70 degrees F. The ventilating apparatus for the dissecting-rooms is a separate plant, operated by a four-foot fan, as the requirements of this room differ materially from the rest of the building. The heating is accomplished by means of radiators placed in the rooms. As the air entering the rooms is already of the proper temperature the only function of the radiator is to take care of local cooling surfaces, such as windows and outside walls. All radiators in the various rooms and the coils in the heating stacks are controlled by automatic thermostatic valves governed by thermometers, so that the temperature is maintained at a uniform degree.

The plumbing throughout is "open," and the best grade of fixtures is used. All piping is of wrought iron, galvanized, and put together with screw joints. Hot water is supplied to all basins and sinks, and a system of circulation pipes arranged to provide hot water at all faucets without delay. A large lavatory and toilet room is placed in the front basement for the use of students, and two in the rear for patients and attendants of the Dispensary. Other lavatories are located throughout the building for the use of students, lecturers, and instructors.

A complete electric plant is installed for furnishing light to all parts of the building and power to operate the three ventilating fans in the roof-houses. The electricity is generated by three dynamos, each with its own engine coupled to it on the same bed-plate. Any two of these dynamos will do the work, leaving one always in reserve.

Outlets for stereopticon projection are provided in each lecture-room, and plugs for electric appliances in the rooms of the dispensary and elsewhere as needed.

There are four elevators in the building; one passenger and one freight running from the basement to the eighth story, one freight running from the driveway to the basement, and one ash and freight hoist running from the Amity Street sidewalk to the vault below. All of these elevators are of the hydraulic type, and are operated by two large compound pumps in the basement, one being sufficient for the work and the other in reserve.

There have been used in the construction of the building 1,100 tons of steel and iron; 15,000 cubic feet of cut stone, nearly 2,000,000 bricks, 2,000 barrels of cement, 20,000 square feet of tiling, about 50,000 feet of piping of all kinds, 59,000 pounds of sheet metal for ventilating ducts, etc., and 12 tons of glass in windows and skylights. The total weight of the building is approximately 12,000 tons, and the walls and roofs inclose nearly 1,000,000 cubic feet.

The illustrations of this building are from photographs by Charles E. Bolles, of Brooklyn.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

OF

THE LONG ISLAND COLLEGE HOSPITAL.

1880.

Although the Collegiate Department of the Long Island College Hospital had been in existence for twenty years, during which time 683 alumni had been graduated, yet it was not until May 21, 1880, that any effort was made to organize an Alumni Association. On that date a self-constituted committee consisting of Jarvis S. Wight, John A. McCorkle and Francis H. Stuart sent out the following letter to each Alumnus resident in Brooklyn, New York and vicinity:

"You are respectfully invited to attend a meeting of the Alumni of the Long Island College Hospital in the Amphitheatre of the Hospital, on Tuesday, May 25th, at half past 8 P.M., for the purpose of assisting in organizing an Alumni Association."

[May 25.] Pursuant thereto, twenty-two Alumni responded, viz.: George H. Atkinson, of '73; George W. Brush, '76; George W. Cushing, '74; George Drury, '78; Charles E. De La Vergne, '78; Joseph Healy, '75; Oliver J. D. Hughes, '75; George F. Ketchum, '76; John A. McCorkle, '73; Lewis D. Mason, '66; Edward F. Mordough, '78; Joseph H. Raymond, '68; Henry N. Read, '70; Alex. J. C. Skene, '63; Francis H. Stuart, '73; James J. Terhune, '75; James Watt, '66; Frank E. West, '76; Benjamin F. Westbrook, '74; George R. Westbrook, '78; Jarvis S. Wight, '64, and Paul H. Kretzschmar, '77.

F. H. Stuart called the meeting to order. J. S. Wight was chosen temporary chairman, and F. H. Stuart Secretary. A Constitution and By-laws were submitted by F. H. Stuart, and, after various amendments, were unanimously adopted.

The following officers were elected: President, Alex. J. C. Skene; Vice-President, James Watt; Secretary, Francis H. Stuart; Corresponding Secretary, George H. Atkinson; Treasurer, James J. Terhune; Councillors, James S. King, John A. McCorkle, Robert Newman, William G. Russell, A. Warner Shepard and Jarvis S. Wight.

An assessment of one dollar was levied on those present, and it was decided to hold a special meeting after the Commencement exercises. It was also decided to offer an Alumni prize for the best original paper, and to receive other papers, not in competition for the prize.

James Watt, 1882.

Robert Newman, 1883. Jarvis S. Wight, 1884.

[June 8.] At a meeting of the Board of Managers it was resolved that a prize of one hundred dollars offered by the President for the best essay on a medical subject, to be competed for by the Alumni, be publicly announced, and Robert Newman, F. H. Stuart and the President were appointed a Committee to draft the conditions upon which the prize should be awarded. The Committee subsequently reported the conditions, and it was determined that the essay should be the property of the Association.

1881.

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING.

[June 13.] At the First Annual Meeting held at the College, Prof. Armor read the successful essay on "Suicide in American Cities," written by Albert Leffingwell, of the Class of '74, which was published in 1882 in the Archives of Medicine.

Dr. Daniel Ayres sent a communication to the Association enclosing one hundred dollars, the gift of Mr. Charles Storrs, which was made the prize fund for the ensuing year. It is an interesting fact that on Dec. 13, 1857, before the Long Island College Hospital bore its present name, and while it was still the "St. John's Hospital," Dr. Daniel Ayres, on behalf of Mr. Charles Storrs, paid to the treasurer of the institution $100 to constitute him a life-member, thereby making him the first life-member.

The following officers were elected: President, A. Warner Shepard; Vice-President, James Watt; Secretary, Frank E. West; Corresponding Secretary, Charles E. De La Vergne; Treasurer, James J. Terhune; Councillors, Jarvis S. Wight, John Harrigan, Paul H. Kretzschmar, William G. Russell, Robert Newman and George R. Westbrook.

After the meeting the Association adjourned to the Iron Pier, Coney Island, where the Alumni Dinner was served, about one hundred and fifty members and guests being present.

A list of the Alumni from 1860 to 1881, with addresses so far as they could be obtained, was published this year. The College Faculty had previously, in 1875, published a list covering the period 1860 to 1875.

1882.

[June 12.] At a meeting of the Board of Managers it was resolved that the graduates of that year be invited to attend the dinner. James Watt agreed to be responsible for any deficit in case the funds in the treasury were not sufficient to pay the expenses of the dinner.

[June 14.] The Second Annual Meeting was held at the College. There being no essays offered, the one hundred dollars contributed by Mr. Storrs was continued as the prize fund of another year.

The following officers were elected: President, James Watt; Vice-President, Robert Newman; Secretary, Daniel K. Drake; Corresponding Secretary, Charles E. De La Vergne; Treasurer, James J. Terhune; Councillors, Alex. J. C. Skene, George H. Atkinson, John A. McCorkle, Frank E. West, Henry N. Read and James W. Fleming.

The meeting adjourned to the Mansion House, where in the evening the annual dinner was held, about one hundred and twenty-five members and guests being present.

The Third Annual Meeting was held at the College, on June 18. The following officers were elected: President, Robert Newman; Vice-President, George H. Atkinson; Secretary, Joseph Healy; Corresponding Secretary, Charles E. De La Vergne; Treasurer, James J. Terhune; Councillors, James Watts, James W. Fleming, Z. Taylor Emery, George R. Kuhn, Frank L. Tetamore and Alexander H. P. Leuf.

The meeting adjourned to the Brighton Beach Hotel, where the annual dinner was served, about one hundred and fifty members and invited guests being present.

[Nov. 17.] At a meeting of the Board of Managers, the question of establishing an Alumni Glee Club was referred to a Committee, which latter recommended its establishment, and the report was adopted.

[Feb. 28.] On this evening Mr. P. Cassamajor delivered a lecture at the College under the auspices of the Association to an audience of ladies and gentlemen, on the subject "Germs: Their Cultivation and Relation to Disease." After the lecture Mr. Cassamajor was entertained by the Board of Managers at the Clarendon Hotel.

[May 20.] The Fourth Annual Meeting of the Association was held at the College. The following officers were elected: President, Jarvis S. Wight; Vice-President, George W. Brush; Secretary, Joseph Healy; Corresponding Secretary, Robert L. Dickinson; Treasurer, James J. Terhune; Councillors, Alexander H. P. Leuf, Henry L. Cochran, Francis H. Stuart, George Drury, Elias H. Bartley and Glentworth R. Butler.

The annual dinner was held at the Clarendon Hotel after the meeting, about one hundred members and invited guests being present.

[Dec. 15.] Prof. R. O. Doremus lectured under the auspices of the Association on "Disinfectants."

PRESIDENTS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Frank E. West, 1885. Benjamin F. Westbrook, 1886.

John Harrigan, 1887.

Charles E. De La Vergne, 1888. Frederick H. Colton, 1889-1890.

1885.

[Feb. 3.] Justice Calvin E. Pratt delivered a lecture under the auspices of the Association on "Duties of the Physician to the Public."

[April 22.] D. E. Salmon, D.V.M., Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, lectured before the Association in the Amphitheatre on "Animal Plagues; with Special Reference to their Influence on Health and Property, and the Means of Prevention."

[June 22.] The Fifth Annual Meeting was held at the College. The following officers were elected: President, Frank E. West; Vice-President, Charles E. De La Vergne; Secretary, Jeremiah E. Baker; Corresponding Secretary, Arthur W. Brewster; Treasurer, C. Eugene Gunther; Councillors, A. J. C. Skene, John A. McCorkle, William M. Hutchinson, Joseph H. Raymond and William G. Russell.

The following were elected Honorary Members: Dr. H. J. Menninger, L. D. Streets, D. E. Salmon and H. W. Rand.

The annual dinner occurred at the Academy of Music (Assembly Rooms), about one hundred and fifty members and invited guests being present.

1886.

The following lectures were delivered under the auspices of the Association:

[Mar. 10.] "Color and Vision," by Prof. Robert Spice.

[Mar. 24.] "Sound and Hearing," also by Prof. Robert Spice.

[April 21.] "The Relations of Bacteria to Disease," by George M. Sternberg, M.D.

[June 1.] The Sixth Annual Meeting was held at the College. A Committee consisting of Paul H. Kretzschmar, Benjamin F. Westbrook and Francis H. Stuart was appointed to collect funds to establish a permanent "Samuel G. Armor" fund, the interest of which was to provide for an annual course of original lectures on subjects of Medical Science or Practice. A Registration Committee was appointed to prepare a correct list of the names and addresses of the Alumni.

The following officers were elected: President, Benjamin F. Westbrook; Vice-President, John Harrigan; Secretary, J. E. Baker; Corresponding Secretary, William M. Hutchinson; Treasurer, C..Eugene Gunther; Councillors, Frank F. Ferguson, Alexander H. P. Leuf, George R. Kuhn, Paul H. Kretzschmar, Robert G. Eccles and Glentworth R. Butler.

Drs. Cornelius Hoagland, Joseph C. Hutchison, Edwin N. Chapman, William Gilfillan and Daniel Ayres and Prof. Darwin G. Eaton were elected Honorary Members.

The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall.

[June 3.] At a meeting of the Board of Managers held this day, the following subjects were selected for the essays to be submitted in competition for the prize: 1. Etiology of Croupous Pneumonia; 2. Etiology of Scarlatina; 3. Tissue Grafting; 4. The Floor of the Female Pelvis.

During this year the second list of Alumni, and their addresses, 1860 to 1886, was published.

[Feb. 5.] At a meeting of the Board, Paul H. Kretzschmar brought up the matter of an Alumni representative on the Board of Regents and on the Council.

[Mar. 1.] The Seventh Annual Meeting was held at the College. Robert L. Dickinson, Chairman of Committee on Registration, referred to the printed list of the Alumni and their addresses, which the Committee had published in 1886. In his report he stated that when the Committee, consisting of A. H. Buckmaster, A. H. P. Leuf and himself, began their work, of 991 Alumni, only 150 correct addresses were known. The list submitted contained 802 addresses, of which 500 were vouched for as correct. 70 Alumni were reported as deceased.

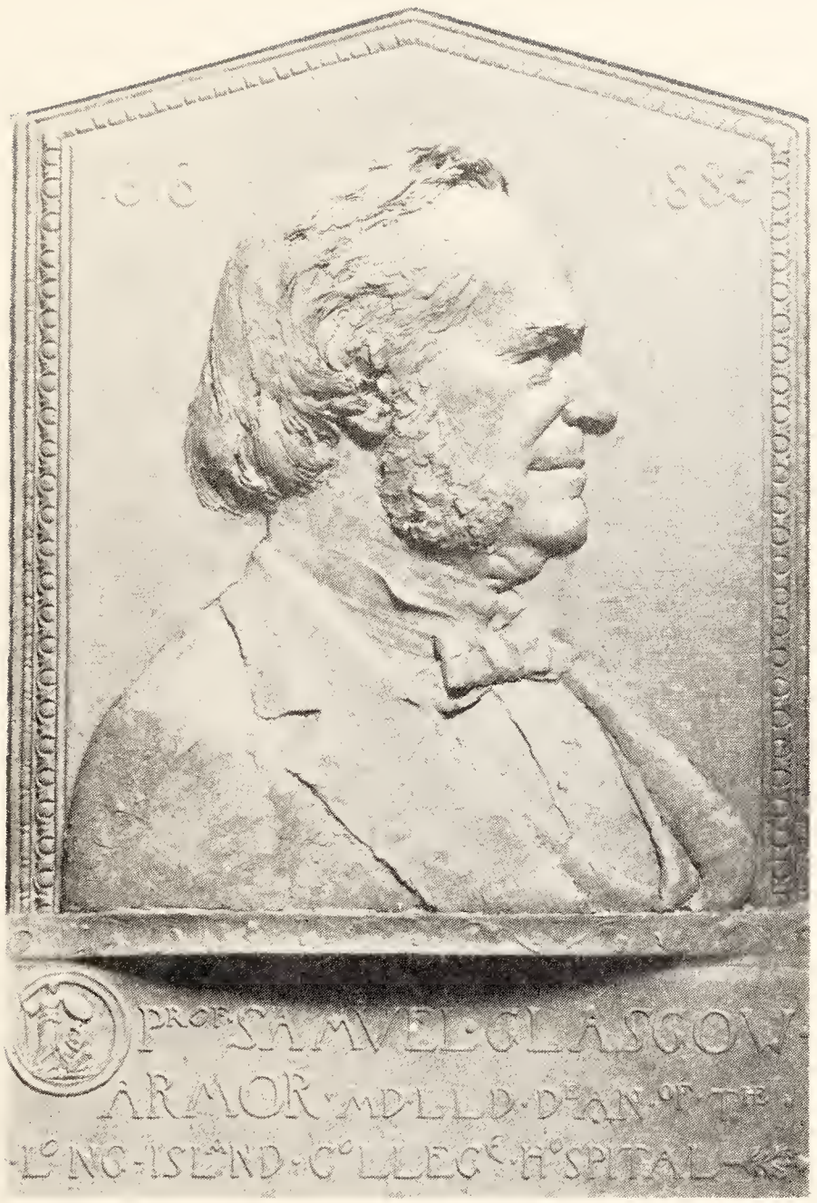

The Alumni prize of $100 was awarded to Robert L. Dickinson for his essay on "The Floor of the Female Pelvis."

Glentworth R. Butler presented the report of the Committee, having in charge the matter of representation in the Board of Regents, accompanied by a resolution recommending such representation. The resolution was adopted and Glentworth R. Butler and Joseph H. Raymond were appointed a Committee to present the resolution to the Board of Regents.

The scope of the duties of the Committee on Registration was increased by adding to it Necrology. Robert Newman announced that at the next meeting he would move an amendment to the Constitution, providing for a permanent historian. A prize of $100 was decided upon for the best original essay upon any medical subject.

The following officers were elected: President, John Harrigan; Vice-President, Robert L. Dickinson; Secretary, Augustus H. Buckmaster; Corresponding Secretary, William M. Hutchinson; Treasurer, Charles N. D. Jones; Councillors, Charles E. De La Vergne, Benjamin F. Westbrook, George R. Kuhn, H. Messenger Ayres and Henry T. Hallock.

The meeting adjourned to Remsen Hall, where the annual dinner was held, about one hundred and forty members and invited guests being present. Among those invited were all the living members of the first College Faculty, Professors J. C. Hutchison, E. N. Chapman, William Gilfillan, D. G. Eaton, R. O. Doremus and J. C. Dalton.

ARMOR MEMORIAL TABLET.

Erected by Alumni Association, 1894.

[July 20.] A special meeting of the Board of Managers was held to take action on the death of Prof. Joseph C. Hutchison, President of the Collegiate Department of the Long Island College Hospital, which occurred on July 17, 1887.

1888.

[Feb. 27.] Prof. A. Jacobi lectured at the College under the auspices of the Association on the "Heart and Blood-vessels of the Young." The medical profession of the city were invited.

[March 7.] The Eighth Annual Meeting was held at the College. The Alumni prize was awarded to Augustus H. Buckmaster, for his essay on the "Treatment of Fibro-myomata by Electrolysis." An essay on "Osteotomy," by Charles N. D. Jones, was pronounced the second best essay submitted.

The following officers were elected: President, Charles E. De La Vergne; Vice-President, Frederick H. Colton; Secretary, H. Messenger Ayres; Corresponding Secretary, Robert L. Dickinson; Treasurer, Charles N. D. Jones; Councillors, John Harrigan, John A. McCorkle, Frank E. West, James W. Fleming, Benjamin F. Westbrook, and Charles C. Henry.

[March 8.] The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall, one hundred and fifteen Alumni and invited guests being present. During the evening Dr. Daniel Ayres presented a check for $10,000 to the Hoagland Laboratory.

During this year a third list of Alumni, 1860-88, was published.

[Feb. 15.] The officers of the Association tendered a reception to Dr. Cornelius N. Hoagland at the Clarendon Hotel, in recognition of his great benefaction to the medical profession and the public in the foundation, equipment and endowment of the Hoagland Laboratory. The resident Alumni of the Long Island College Hospital were the invited guests.

[March 12.] The Ninth Annual Meeting was held at the College. The Committee on Alumni representation in the Board of Regents reported that a letter had been received from that body, stating that "if the name of any incorporator is submitted to the Board of Regents by the Alumni Association, it will doubtless receive respectful consideration." It was further stated that the payment of $50 was necessary to qualify one to be an incorporator, and that the term of office of a Regent was five years. Z. Taylor Emery was recommended by the Association to be an incorporator, and a Committee was appointed to confer with the Regents in reference to his election.

George M. Sternberg, M.D., and George T. Kemp, Ph.D., were elected Honorary Members.

The following officers were elected: President, Frederick H. Colton; Vice-President, Paul H. Kretzschmar; Secretary, H. Messenger Ayres; Corresponding Secretary, George W. Brush; Treasurer, Charles N. D. Jones; Councillors, Charles E. De La Vergne, Joseph H. Raymond, Frank E. West, Z. Taylor Emery, Henry L. Cochran, and Wales L. Cary.

[March 13.] The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall, one hundred and fifty-two members and invited guests being present.

[May 4.] Dr. Brush assumed personal responsibility for the fee of the incorporator nominated by the Association.

[Nov. 29.] A Committee was appointed to raise funds for a bronze bust of the late Prof. Samuel G. Armor. This memorial was to take the place of the lecture fund before proposed.

1890.

[March 11.] Tenth Annual Meeting was held at the College. Mr. Julius Pfarre and Drs. B. M. Bolton and William Wallace were elected Honorary Members. The Association adopted a pin consisting of the Geneva cross, the medical emblem for succor in trouble, upon a white cross, the emblem of purity, surmounted by the monogram L. I. C. H. in gold. Students after one year in college were permitted to wear it. This pin was designed by Robert L. Dickinson and Joshua M. Van Cott, Jr. It appears for the first time in the college announcement of 1891.

The following officers were elected: President, Frederick H. Colton; Vice-President, Paul H. Kretzschmar; Secretary, Henry L. Cochran; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Wales L. Cary; Councillors, John Harrigan, Reuben Jeffery, Charles C. Henry, Joshua M. Van Cott, Jr., Elias H. Bartley, and Leon M. Fleming.

The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall on March 12th, one hundred and sixty-six members and invited guests being present.

[March 10.] The Eleventh Annual Meeting was held at the College. The following officers were elected: President, Paul H. Kretzschmar; Vice-President, Joseph H. Raymond; Secretary, Harry K. Bell; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Reuben Jeffery; Councillors, Charles E. De La Vergne, Alex. Rae, R. M. Meade, George Drury, Francis H. Stuart, and Henry Conkling.

The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall, on March 11, about two hundred and fifty-five members and invited guests being present.

[March 21.] The Twelfth Annual Meeting was held at the College. A list of 1,276 Alumni was presented by Reuben Jeffery. The Association decided to have a tablet of Dr. Armor instead of a bust.

The following officers were elected: President, Joseph H. Raymond; Vice-President, William M. Hutchinson; Secretary, Harry K. Bell; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Lawrence Coffin; Councillors, John Harrigan, Charles E. De La Vergne, Elias H. Bartley, H. Messenger Ayres, Reuben Jeffery, and George B. O'Sullivan.

The annual dinner was given at Remsen Hall.

[March 21.] The Thirteenth Annual Meeting was held at the College. The By-laws were amended so as to provide for annual dues of $1, to be used in preparing and maintaining a list of the Alumni. The Constitution was amended by adding a provision for a permanent Historian, which became Article VIII., and Article VIII. was made Article IX.

Officers elected: President, William M. Hutchinson; Vice-President, Reuben Jeffery; Secretary, Harry K. Bell; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Lawrence Coffin; Councillors, Elias H. Bartley, H. Messenger Ayres, George B. O'Sullivan, George D. Barney, Palmer Townsend, and George G. Ward, Jr.

Harry K. Bell was elected Historian. The annual dinner was held at Remsen Hall.

1894.

[March 19.] Fourteenth Annual Meeting was held at the College. The "Armor" tablet was reported as finished, and placed on the north wall of the lecture-room in the College. The Committee reported a balance of $29, which was appropriated to the Historian. This tablet is the work of the distinguished Scotch sculptor, J. Massey Rhind.

Officers elected: President, Reuben Jeffery; Vice-President, Elias H. Bartley; Secretary, William E. Sullivan; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, William C. Gardner; Councillors, H. Messenger Ayres, L. Grant Baldwin, Alexander F. Carroll, Joshua M. Van Cott, Jr., D. W. Waugh, and John O. Polak. Permanent Historian, Albert Leffingwell.

[March 20.] Dinner was held at the Pouch mansion, and a special feature of the occasion was a reception to the invited guests preceding the dinner. Two hundred and nine members and invited guests present.

1895.

[March 25.] Fifteenth Annual Meeting was held at the College.

McCurdy, William C. Mathews, Alex. M. Redfearn, H. L. Stevens, and Joseph E. Woods; Secretary, William E. Sullivan; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, John O. Polak; Councillors, Frank E. West, J. O. F. Hill, Sylvester J. McNamara, L. Grant Baldwin, Harold F. Jewett, and Joseph J. O'Connell.

[March 26.] The annual dinner was held at the Germania Club, one hundred and eighty members and invited guests present. Report of the Historian, Albert Leffingwell, was read, also a biographical sketch of Prof. Corydon L. Ford, deceased, by Jarvis S. Wight.

[May 6.] At a special meeting the Association resolved that, whenever the funds permit, a catalogue be prepared and published, which shall contain a brief history of each Alumnus, and that until this volume is published the Association undertake no literary work, such as public lectures or prize essays.

1896.

[April 8.] The Sixteenth Annual Meeting was held at the Montauk Club. The plans of the Polhemus Memorial Clinic were inspected by the Association, and explained by the architect, Mr. Marshall L. Emery.

Officers elected: President, John A. McCorkle; Vice-President, L. Grant Baldwin; Secretary, A. S. Ambler; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, John O. Polak; Councillors, Edgar A. Day, David A. Myerle, Robert L. Dickinson, William A. Northridge, Robert J. Morrison, and William E. Butler.

The annual dinner took place at the club after adjournment, one hundred members and guests being present.

1897.

[April 17.] Seventeenth Annual Meeting was held at the Montauk Club. The Association requested the Historian to prepare a list of the Alumni, together with a history of each one.

Officers elected: President, L. Grant Baldwin; Vice-President, Fred. A. Jewett; Secretary, A. S. Ambler; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, John O. Polak; Councillors, Henry H. Morton, R. C. Brewster, Edgar A. Day, William A. Northridge, J. Merzbach, and Wilbur H. Seymour.

PRESIDENTS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

John A. McCorkle, 1896.
James W. Fleming, 1898.
L. Grant Baldwin, 1897.
John O. Polak, 1899.

The annual dinner occurred after adjournment, about one hundred members and invited guests being present.

[June 10.] At a special meeting of the Board of Managers, Albert Leffingwell resigned as Historian, and Joseph H. Raymond was elected to that position; and on June 20th, a blank was sent to each Alumnus on which his history was to be written and returned.

[May 19.] Eighteenth Annual Meeting was held at the Montauk Club. The Historian reported having received the histories of nine hundred Alumni, and explained the general plan of the "History of the Alumni," which he was preparing. The Association resolved that they would request the Board of Regents to elect an additional representative on their Board, and his nomination was referred to the incoming Board of Managers.

Officers elected: President, James W. Fleming; Vice-President, William H. Skene; Secretary, Burr B. Mosher; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, John O. Polak; Councillors, L. Grant Baldwin, Hubert Arrowsmith, John O. F. Hill, Thomas A. McGoldrick, Joseph Merzbach, and William G. Russell.

The annual dinner was held at the Club after adjournment, about one hundred members and invited guests being present. A unanimous vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Caroline H. Polhemus, for the magnificent building erected by her in memory of her husband, the late Henry Ditmas Polhemus, the use of which had been given to the Dispensary and Collegiate Departments of the Long Island College Hospital.

[June 13.] The Board of Managers nominated John Harrigan as an additional Alumni representative on the Board of Regents.

[April 3.] John Harrigan was elected a member of the Board of Regents.

[May 17.] The Annual Meeting was held at the Montauk Club.

Officers elected: John O. Polak, President; Glentworth R. Butler, Vice-President; Burr B. Mosher, Recording Secretary; John O. F. Hill, Treasurer; Joseph H. Raymond, Historian. Councillors, John Harrigan, Thomas A. McGoldrick, Fred G. Winter, John A. Schmidt, Clarence R. Hyde, William F. Campbell.

The annual dinner was held at the Club after adjournment, about one hundred members and invited guests being present. At this dinner, Mr. Henry W. Maxwell, President of the Board of Regents, announced a subscription of $10,000 toward the erection of a new hospital building.

CONSTITUTION OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

As Adopted May 25, 1880.

Article I.—Title.

This Association shall be called "The Association of the Alumni of The Long Island College Hospital."

Article II.—Objects.

The objects of the Association are, to promote the interests of The Long Island College Hospital in the work of medical education, and to encourage and promote the scientific investigation of medical subjects.

Article III.—Members.

All graduates of The Long Island College Hospital in good standing in the profession, or engaged in other honorable occupations, are hereby declared to be members of this Association. Members of the Faculty who are not graduates, and such other persons as may be elected by the Association, shall be Honorary Members.

Article IV.—Officers and Managers.

The Officers of the Association shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, and a Treasurer. These officers and six others who may be elected as Councillors shall be the Board of Managers. They shall be elected annually.

Article V.—Duties.

The Officers and Managers designated in Art. IV. shall manage the affairs of the Association, subject to the Constitution and By-laws, and shall report to the Association at its annual meeting. The presence of five members of the Board of Managers shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of such Boards.

Article VI.—Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Association shall be held during Commencement week, at such time as may be designated by the Managers. Special meetings may be called at any time, upon the written request of five members.

Article VII.—Elections.

All elections shall be by ballot. The officers elected shall enter upon their respective duties immediately after the adjournment of the annual meeting, and shall hold office until after the adjournment of the next annual meeting.

Article VIII.—Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the members present at the annual meeting, provided that notice of the proposed amendment be given at a previous meeting.
